Key Senators To Visit Seashore Area

Two U.S. senators, key voices in the proposed Point Reyes National Seashore debate, will visit Marin County Friday for a first-hand look at the peninsula.

The two are Sen. Alan Bible of Nevada, chairman of the Senate Interior Committee Subcommittee on Public Lands, and Sen. Frank Moss of Utah, chairman of a Senate subcommittee which held a hearing at College of Marin in April last year.

The two solons fly into San Francisco Thursday evening. They will drive to Marin Friday accompanied by officials of the National Park Service. Their itinerary calls for stops at the lumbering operations of Sweet Lumber Company, the Lake Ranch and the Bolema Club in the southern part of the peninsula, then on to Inverness for a luncheon at the ranch of Al Grossi.

Ranchers of the area, opposed to taking the whole 53,000 acre peninsula for a federal park, have been invited.

Later they will drive to Point Reyes lighthouse, and then fly over the point, Drake's Bay, Bear Valley and back to San Francisco.

Rep. Clement W. Miller of Corte Madera plans to join the senators briefly.

Senator Bible is chairman of the committee which is considering bills by California Sens. Thomas Kuchel (R) and Clair Engle (D) to establish the park. Another member of the committee, Sen. Ernest Gruening of Alaska, visited Point Reyes earlier this year.

Miller said he is hopeful that the Senate committee will take favorable action on the bills within a week or two after this inspection.

"I believe there is substantial unanimity on the committee, among both the Republicans and Democrats, that the park should be established," he declared. Basic framework for the agreement is the 53,000 acre plan, but there are "still

Airman Is Killed In Waldo Wreck

A Hamilton Air Force Base airman died, and another airman suffered major injuries in an automobile mishap on the Waldo Grade early today.

A/1c Gene D. Wills, 23, apparently suffered a fractured skull when he was thrown out of a small imported car driven by A/1c James W. Daniels, 28. The car rolled over after "ticking" the right rear of another car they had overtaken at 1:25 a. m. Both were with the 1902nd Airways and Air Communications Squadron at Hamilton.

Wills was the 10th Marin County highway fatality this year. At this time last year 12 had died on Marin roads.

The accident involved slight collision with a car driven by another Hamilton airman, A/2c Joshua W. Devine, 27, of the 78th Supply Squadron.

Devine later told California Highway Patrol investigators that he had been northbound in the center lane at about 45 miles an hour and saw a following car overtaking him, flashing its lights back and forth from low to high beam, at a speed he estimated as at least 15 miles an hour higher than his own.

Daniel's car catapulted down the road, but Devine's vehicle was thrown sidewise, and it was 200 yards before he regained control.

JFK Says Recession Now Over

UNITY HOUSE, Pa. (UPI) — President John F. Kennedy said in a message to the AFL-CIO executive council today that "we have now emerged from the recession."

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg arrived by helicopter at this union summer resort to deliver Kennedy's letter to AFL-CIO President George Meany.

Kennedy said that "many economic problems will continue to confront us and demand our best efforts to find solution."

He thanked the labor leaders for their support of his administration's foreign policy and major domestic programs in the past.

Meany immediately pledged that the AFL-CIO would continue to back the president on international matters "so we can help keep America free."

Strike Talks To Be Resumed

NEW YORK (AP) — A presidential fact-finding board announced today that negotiations would be resumed this afternoon in the maritime strike.

David L. Cole, chairman of the board named to inquire into the dispute, said the talks would begin sometime after 2 p.m. They had been suspended over the past week.

Cole arranged the meeting after calling for a "last-ditch effort to see whether some substantial progress can be made" toward ending the 13-day walkout.

U.S. Is Blunt In Warning Over Berlin

Don't Underestimate Allies, President Tells Soviets

COMBINED UPI & AP

WASHINGTON—President John F. Kennedy bluntly warned the Russians today they would be making a "grave mistake" if they underestimate Allied determination to stand firm against any Soviet "threats or fresh aggressive acts" in Berlin.

He also said the American people must understand that this "Soviet-manufactured" Berlin crisis posed a grave threat "to the peace and security of Europe and of ourselves."

Kennedy, in his first news conference since Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev stoked up the Berlin crisis in his Vienna talks with the president, did not rule out the possibility of negotiations with the Russians.

"We agree that there is unfinished business to be settled as concerns Germany," he said, but added that this should come about through free elections and not a unilateral Russian abrogation of their responsibility.

He, in effect, accused Russia of double-talk.

"Discussions will be profitable if the Soviets will accept in Berlin—and indeed in Europe — self-determination, which they profess in other parts of the world, and if they will work sincerely for peace

Nikita Pledges West Access In Berlin Treaty

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev pledged today that his threatened peace treaty with East Germany would include a guarantee against interference in West Berlin's affairs and offer no hindrance to continued western access to the city.

But, in a speech to a communist North Vietnam government delegation, he still insisted that the United States, Britain and France would have to deal with the Communist East Germans. The West has refused to do this as it does not recognize the East German government.

This was the fourth time in two weeks that Khrushchev has expressed the Kremlin's determination to press ahead with a treaty with East Germany, regardless of Western threats of countermeasures.

'Bootleg' Red A-Tests Probe Is Ordered

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President John F. Kennedy disclosed today he has ordered a group of top scientists to investigate whether Russia is conducting secret nuclear tests. If so, they will try to find out what kind of weapons the Soviets are developing.

Kennedy told a news conference that neither he nor former President Dwight D. Eisenhower had received any scientific evidence that the Soviet Union was violating the 32-month voluntary atomic test moratorium.

"What we are concerned about is that our information is quite incomplete," he said, "and we want to know if it is possible that they could be testing without our knowing and what the chances are that that might be true."

The chief executive said the Kremlin's refusal to negotiate seriously at Geneva had disheartened everyone who had high hopes of curbing the spread of atomic weapons and the arms race.

Another Arrest Made For Growing Marijuana

It was the third arrest on suspicion of growing and possessing marijuana in Marin County in three days.

Jailed late last night was Richard Darrell Selesky, of 8 Bernard Street, Mill Valley, 20 an auto mechanic who said his last steady job was in San Francisco.

Sheriff's Inspector William C. Bradley conducted the stakeout with State Narcotics Agents Jerome Murphy and John Lennon and Mill Valley Patrolman Eddie Gregg.

Bradley said he and the other officers, using a search warrant, hunted in vain for narcotics in Selesky's two-room house. But in the backyard they found two soil-filled sawed-off milk cartons resembling the plants on the kitchen roof of Mrs. Nancy Jane Kuhe, 29-year-old divorced mother of two, arrested Monday.

The stakeout was begun at noon yesterday and at about 8:40 p.m. Selesky "walked into my arms in the living room," Bradley said.

The inspector said the stakeout was begun after Mrs. Kuhe said Selesky put the array of 46 marijuana plants on her roof in Corte Madera. He said Selesky at first denied this and later said he brought most of the containers and the soil but Mrs. Kuhe furnished the marijuana seeds.

Selesky faced arraignment at 1:30 p.m. today. Mrs. Kuhe was freed in $525 bail last night, pending entering of a plea Monday.

The first of the three recent marijuana arrests was that of Eric Warren Nelson, 20, a San Rafael dishwasher. Two marijuana plants were found Sunday under floodlights in a storeroom adjoining his living quarters in Mill Valley.

May teach again

Lucas To Quit San Rafael School Post

Frank L. Lucas, superintendent of San Rafael schools for eight years, will quit in September because of poor health, but may take on a teaching assignment instead.

Lucas, who suffered a heart attack in November of 1957 and has been ailing off and on since then, submitted his resignation in writing at the board of education meeting last night. He said he has been "feeling better" since undergoing hospital care but does not believe he will recover sufficiently to run the district for the coming year.

'EXTREME REGRET'

Board President Roderick P. Martinelli accepted Lucas' resignation "with extreme regret and our thanks for your services." Trustee Rex T. Silvernale also paid Lucas tribute. "I hope we do as well in the next eight years as we have in the last," said Silvernale.

The board reaffirmed its appointment of Dr. Raymond J. Simpson as acting superintendent. Simpson has been filling in for Lucas during Lucas' illness.

MEETING PLANNED

The school board tentatively set a meeting for 5 p.m. today with Dr. Theodore Reller, professor of education administration at the University of California. If Reller is available, the board wants to meet with him in San Rafael to discuss a successor to Lucas.

Martinelli also explained that the personnel session held last Thursday concerned Lucas' resignation.

When Martinelli asked Lucas whether he would consider a teaching job that is less demanding, Lucas replied he would. "I thank you," said Lucas. "I am going to have to do some kind of work unless I fold up altogether."

Hospital, Housing Trounced At Polls

Very Low Turnout Of Voters

A proposed million-dollar hospital bond issue and a low-rent housing project for Marin both took a sound trouncing in yesterday's countywide election.

The million-dollar bond measure, which needed two-thirds majority for passage, did not even get a simple majority. Voter turnout was only 21 per cent, even lighter than predicted by County Clerk George S. Jones.

For the hospital bond issue the vote was 6,875 "yes" and 7,233 "no." For the housing project, it was 5,733 "yes" and 8,384 "no."

Only 14,234 ballots were cast, plus 145 absentee votes, from a total of 67,625 registered voters.

Jones foresaw a light election and made this an "economy election" by providing only 110 polling places for 315 precincts.

Jones predicted a turnout of not more than 25 to 30 per cent, but even so he shot a little high.

Neither of last year's two votes on hospital bonds saw such a disastrous trouncing though they were for issue of $2,250,000 proposed issues.

On June 7 at a primary election the two-thirds majority was missed by only about 1,000 votes when 25,334 voted "yes" and 15,025 "no."

The supervisors ordered the same measure put on the Nov. 8 ballot and with a bigger turnout, the margin of failure wid-

BUSINESS AREA?

Hub Is Warned On Sunny Hills

San Anselmo City Attorney John G. Buresh last night warned city councilmen to "make sure you take an interest in the city school district's attempt to acquire 13-plus acres of Sunny Hills property."

Buresh explained to the council that the property the school district wants is "practically all the level ground zoned commercial," and that it is property that would mean high revenue for the city. "But once the district takes it, it's gone forever."

Buresh said that even the area that is now zoned residential will probably be requested in a few years for commercial use.

The attorney further explained that it would mean that a school would "be right down town." He added that the city planning commission should also consider the matter when the school district comes before the commission.

The district trustees, in a June 23 letter to the board of directors of Sunny Hills Orphanage in San Anselmo, gave notice that they were going to proceed with acquisition of 13.4 acres of the institution's property for public school expansion.

Gate Bridge District Showing A Big Profit

The Golden Gate Bridge district will wind up its fiscal year Friday with a profit of more than two and one-half million dollars for the year's operation, directors were told this morning.

The bridge will spend $1,200,000 of it the next day to make the annual bond interest payment, leaving a net profit of $1,320,955.

After hearing the report from General Manager James Adam, the bridge's finance committee gave first approval to a budget of approximately $2,025,000, largest in the bridge's history.

The committee will recommend to the full bridge board Friday that $2,121,000 be authorized for "additions and betterments" to the span.

These would include $1,250,000 for the widening of the Marin viaduct approach, $800,000 for traffic control arches across the span, $37,500 to resurface the Sausalito lateral, $20,000 for new automotive equipment, and some minor acquisitions.

The committee voted pay raises of approximately 5 per cent to all employees not members of labor unions. It also approved wage increases for all union employees to correspond with raises granted under contracts.

No salary increase was granted Adam who receives $21,888, the bridge attorney, $11,028, and Adam's administrative assistant, $12,000.

NAZIS IN MARIN?

The swastika and Nazi slogan appeared mysteriously in the middle of Leona Drive in Santa Venetia yesterday. Marin Sheriff's Deputy James L. Current spotted the slogan, which had been painted on blacktop surface in letters 18 to 24 inches high. Along the edge of the road, Current found a partly empty quart can of white paint and a brush. Nearby was a note paper on which had been written, "Heil Hitler. Join the Nazi Freedom League of America." Investigators said the job appears to be a prank. (Independent-Journal photo)

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Drinking Before Fall

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A coroner's report showed yesterday that millionaire George Vanderbilt had enough alcohol in his blood to intoxicate him when he plunged to his death from the 10th floor of a San Francisco hotel last Saturday.

Dr. Henry Turkel said tests showed .23 per cent alcohol content in the blood of the 47-year-old scion of one of America's wealthiest families.

Louise Vanderbilt, 41, whom he married last March, had told police her husband had given up alcohol. However, the coroner said there was "other evidence" of possible drinking by Vanderbilt the afternoon before his death.

Tinker Bell Stuck

Tiny Kline, 71, who portrays the Peter Pan character each night at Disneyland in making a 784-foot descent by cable, dangled 60 feet in the air for 25 minutes when the cable's pulley stuck.

"I'm okay, but in 31 years nothing like this has ever happened before," the 98-pound woman said after the Anaheim Fire Department rescued her. "Don't worry about me, I'll be ready to go on as usual tomorrow night."

Blaze Under Control

REDLANDS (UPI)—Three hundred fire fighters aided by bulldozers and water - bombing planes today controlled a 65-acre brush fire in the Camp Angeles recreation area of San Bernardino National Forest that burned six summer homes.

The blaze started near Camp Angeles' Shadow Lake about 18 miles northeast of here yesterday afternoon, quickly burning over the brush and small timber in strong winds. One of the homes destroyed was valued at $30,000.

Graham To Rest

NEW YORK (UPI)—Evangelist Billy Graham today considered canceling a series of summer crusades in the United States because he feels weakened from a virus-caused illness.

The minister, who headed for his Montreat, N.C., home today after returning from England yesterday, said he was scheduled to go to the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., July 18 for a "routine checkup." He said he had planned to enter the clinic prior to his European crusade during which he was forced to stay in bed for almost a week because of his illness.

Ready For Jazz Fete

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Newport is determined to have harmony on the bandstand and in the city as well when thousands of young enthusiasts mass for the four-day jazz festival beginning Friday.

Elaborate plans have been made to keep order this year. The 1960 festival was abbreviated in a riot of flying bottles; clubs and tear gas grenades.

Meany To Run

UNITY HOUSE (UPI)—George Meany was reported today to have decided to run for his fourth two-year term as AFL-CIO president despite sharp criticism from some of his fellow union leaders.

Meany, who will be 67 in August, appeared to be in full charge at sessions of the AFL-CIO executive council considering touchy policy problems.

Aides said he had every intention of seeking re-election—practically assured — at the AFL-CIO convention next December in Miami Beach.

MacArthur Speech Off

MANILA (AP)—A plan to have Gen. Douglas MacArthur address a joint session of the Philippine Congress during his visit here has been canceled.

An official in the office of President Carlos P. Garcia said today a message had been sent to MacArthur in New York advising him of the change in plans. The general will be a special guest at the celebration July 4 of the 15th anniversary of Philippine independence.

Death Experiment

TUJUNGA (UPI) — A 16-year-old youth yesterday told police he tried to shove a housewife into a large clothes dryer as an experiment to see how he could kill his younger brother.

Officers said they caught the La Crescenta teen-ager as he fled from a serve-your-self laundry. He had tried to push Mrs. Shirley Dilley, 29, of Sunland, into the dryer until her screams scared him off.

The woman received burns on her hands and arms while battling to keep from being pushed in.

The youth, who has no previous arrest record, told officers he was looking for a way to get rid of his 15-year-old brother, whom he envied for his good looks.

Threat In Congo

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI)—The unification of The Congo was threatened today by reports that troops of leftist leader Antoine Gizenga might start a new offensive into North Katanga.

One report said that U.N. soldiers already had disarmed one of Gizenga's patrols which crossed the Katangese frontier.

U.N. officials in Katanga were reported to have cabled Gizenga a request to halt the apparent offensive of his troops against North Katanga.

Informed sources said the telegram warned Gizenga that the United Nations would oppose any such armed aggression. Under a U.N. security council resolution passed Feb. 21, the United Nations is authorized to use force, if necessary, to prevent civil war in The Congo.

Arkansas Schools

LITTLE ROCK (UPI)—Arkansas voters turned down by an almost two-to-one margin Gov. Orval Faubus' plan to modernize state schools and institutions with a 60-million-dollar bond issue.

Unofficial and nearly complete returns early today showed 70,297 in favor of the bonds, and 136,351 against them.

Faubus suggested the bond issue to finance construction at the University of Arkansas, seven other state supported colleges and several hospitals, when the schools were unable to get a bond issue backed by a soft drink tax through the 1961 legislature.

Auto Union Session

DETROIT (AP)—Walter P. Reuther turns his attention from tractors to automobiles today as he leads his United Auto Workers Union into the first session of 1961 contract negotiations with the automotive industry.

Reuther leads a bargaining team against the giant of the auto industry, General Motors Corp. Tomorrow he'll take on Ford Motor Co., and on Friday, Chrysler Corp. He'll get around to American Motors Corp. July 6.

Dearborn Mayor Will Greet 'Freedom Clowns'

DEARBORN, Mich. (UPI) — Dearborn Mayor Orville I. Hubbard, brushing aside charges of racial discrimination in his city's public facilities, plans to invite "Freedom Clowns" in for tea when they hit town next month.

"Freedom Clowns" is Hubbard's phrase for a group of Freedom Riders who are planning a trip through this white-dominated city of 112,000.

The journey was announced yesterday by Judith Yesner, leader of the Ann Arbor chapter of the Congress on Racial Equality (CORE). No specific date has been set.

Miss Yesner, currently recovering from an appendectomy, said 40 CORE members would make the trip in the hope of breaking down racial discrimination in "public facilities."

She said "quite a few" restaurants in Dearborn discriminate against Negroes. Asked if Negroes in downtown Dearborn could "find a place to eat," she said that some eating places there did serve Negroes but others did not. She said her group has "tested this."

Hubbard denied that there was any discrimination in public facilities in his city and called the riders "Freedom Clowns making the rounds." But he said they would be invited to come to tea in the mayor's office when they arrive here.

Miss Yesner also said "You know Negroes cannot buy homes in Dearborn." Asked if her group intended somehow to test the housing situation in Dearborn, Miss Yesner said they had no such plans.

Brown Joins With GOP For Civil Rights Action

HONOLULU (AP)—California's Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown gave a helping hand today to Republicans seeking to force Governors' Conference action on civil rights.

Brown said he intends to vote in the resolutions committee to place before the conference a proposal by 15 Republican governors for affirmative state action to end racial discrimination.

Republican Gov. Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon said in a separate interview that Brown's vote, combined with those of four Republicans, would furnish the margin to force the resolution out of the nine-member committee.

The civil rights controversy was one of several expected to engage the governors in a wind-up business session of their 53rd annual conference.

A nominating committee was ready to recommend the election of Gov. Wesley Powell of New Hampshire as new chairman.

Powell would succeed Democratic Gov. Stephen L. R. McNichols of Colorado under a tradition of rotating between members of the two major parties.

Cuba Tractor Team Awaits Negotiations

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—A delegation of 10 prisoners from Cuba waited today for the disbanded Tractors for Freedom Committee to decide whether it would reform and resume blocked negotiations.

The prisoners conferred for nearly four hours last night with John Hooker Jr., executive secretary of the committee, and announced afterwards that nothing had been changed in their situation.

Hooker said, however, he was hopeful there would be a decision today or tomorrow on whether the committee would reconstitute itself to renew the talks.

The committee members were Eleanor Roosevelt, Dr. Milton Eisenhower and Walter Reuther, head of the United Auto Workers.

Hooker said he had been in touch with every member of the committee, including Eisenhower, who had been out of the country.

However, another spokesman for the committee, Frank Winn, said in Detroit he knew of no contact between Reuther and Hooker. He added that he knew of no plans to resume negotiations, and "I'd certainly know about such a development right away."

Neither Hooker nor the prisoners would make any statement concerning the conference. The delegation said through a spokesman that they feared a statement "might be misinterpreted by one side or the other" and "might endanger our companions in Cuba."

Arab Leaders Lining Up Against Claims Of Iraq

CAIRO (AP) — Arab leaders were lining up today against Iraq's claims to the rich little sheikdom of Kuwait.

President Gamal Abdel Nasser's United Arab Republic came out against any effort by Iraq to grab the oil prize on her southeast border. The UAR announcement, combined with firm Saudi Arabian opposition to Iraq's claim, was expected to swing most of the 10-nation Arab League behind Kuwait Sheik Sir Abdullah As-Salim As-Sabah's defiance of Iraqi Premier Abdel Harim Kassem.

"The UAR does not accept the logic of annexation," said Minister of State Abdel Kader Hatem in a broadcast over Cairo radio.

The Cairo newspaper Al Akhbar said Nasser is sending a mission to Kuwait to congratulate the sheik on his country's new independence. One of Nasser's ministers heading the mission will carry a personal message from the UAR president to the sheik, it added.

Saudi Arabia's Radio Mecca broadcast a declaration by King Saud that "any mishap that befalls Kuwait affects Saudi Arabia and vice versa." Officials in Kuwait reportedly were told Saud was determined to use force if Kuwait is "subjected to any military action."

Baghdad radio meanwhile blared forth claims that Iraq commands all public sovereignty over Kuwait. The state-controlled radio referred to the Connecticut-sized sheifdom as "Iraq's southern district of Kuwait."

So far the border between Kuwait and Iraq was reported quiet.

It was sanded down by a young boy working in the factory, Dwight D. Eisenhower.

TROPHY WINNER AT THE FAIR

Solution Is Offered On 1-Way Hub Street

A San Anselmo citizen, an engineer by profession, last night came up with what may be the solution to the problem of a narrow San Anselmo street, Camino de Herrera.

John F. Burke of 5 Trasler Road is an Army engineer in San Francisco. He along with some 60 persons packed the council chambers to hear council discussion on a proposal by the city engineer William Roe and Police Chief Raymond R. Buchinani that Camino de Herrera become a one-way street. The council did more listening than talking however.

After about a half hour of citizens arguments both pro and con, Burke quietly stood up. He said he had made an "engineering survey" and could suggest a detailed plan to make the narrow sections of the street and a dangerous intersection on it safe.

He showed the council a way they could for $60 make the street between Bennett Avenue and Valley Road wider. He pointed out that there was a drainage ditch along the road that was already filled with erroded dirt and could be covered with "black top" asphalt to add about 18 inches to the width of the road. He also suggested that at the Bennett intersection on Camino de Herrera a "No Right Turn" sign could be moved in from the road and easily allow two extra feet width at the intersection.

The council was impressed and asked that Burke meet with the city administrator, chief of police and engineer, draw up a detailed plan between them and present it at the regular meeting, July 11.

Mrs. James Allen of 29 Camino de Herrera expressed concern that a "lot of danger on her street is a result of cars coming down the hill too fast."

Rabies Shots For Dogs To Be Continued

Marin County dog vaccination protection against rabies will continue to cost $2 this summer, county supervisors decided yesterday.

Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, health officer, proposed that the fee be cut to $1.50 or $1.75, but the supervisors found no solid economic justification.

They voted approval of a program for a smaller number of rabies clinics and a flat fee to veterinarians of $50 per two-hour clinic, or $100 for a four-hour clinic, for 600 or more dogs vaccinated, with slight reduction if the number proves less. Dr. Albrecht guessed 700.

This replaces a former rate of 50 cents per dog. Asst. Auditor Michael Mitchell said in the course of discussion that it was up to the supervisors to decide as policy whether they wished to subsidize the program or make it pay its own way, and the decision was for the latter course.

Questioned by Supervisor J. Walter Blair as to what would happen if the county required pet-owners to go direct to veterinarians in all cases instead of providing clinics, Dr. Albrecht said the law requires that the county provide "low-cost clinics" or arrange for veterinarians to do so.

"I'd keep at least to the $2 fee," was Blair's conclussion.

Dr. Albrecht's schedule of intended clinics provided none closer to West Marin than Woodacre, it was pointed out. It follows:

July 11 and 18, health department in San Rafael 2 to 6 p.m.

July 17, Lynwood School, Novato, 2 to 4 p.m.

July 24, Alto Elementary School, Mill Valley, 2 to 4 p.m.

July 31, county fire department, Woodacre, 2 to 4 p.m.

Sheriff Gets County Civil Defense Post

Marin supervisors yesterday formally made Sheriff Louis P. Montanos head of the county's civil defense, and moved Mrs. Jean Smith over to the sheriff's quarters to act as assistant civil defense coordinator.

But the vote on the latter point was conditional with Supervisors Walter R. Castro and William Gnoss taking an unusual course—their votes are to be counted as "yes" for unanimity if there is plenty of room for both Mrs. Smith and her files, but otherwise "no" for a 3-2 passage.

"If there's only a little dark hole over there, I'm not agreeing," said Gnoss. (Mrs. Smith has been the secretary in the administrator's office.)

West Fears Red Laos Take-Over

GENEVA (UPI)—The communists today endorsed the decisions of the Zurich "summit" meeting of the rival Laotian princes, underlining Western fears that the way may have been paved for a Red take-over of the southeast Asian kingdom.

Western hopes for preventing the communists from gaining power in Laos appeared to depend mainly on Gen. Phoumi Nosavan, pro-Western deputy premier in the government of Prince Boun Oum. Phoumi flew to Washington today to confer with American government officials.

Cart Kills Priest

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A Catholic priest died here yesterday in a freak golfing accident. Father George Feeney of Tucson, Ariz., was thrown from a motor-driven cart near the 16th tee at the Olympic Club. He was struck at the base of the skull and was pronounced dead on arrival at the hospital.

Salk Blasts AMA On Vaccine Report

NEW YORK (UPI)—Dr. Jonas E. Salk, developer of the killed-virus polio vaccine given by needle, today cautioned the AMA that a report urging use of a new oral vaccine contains "misinformation and misleading inferences."

Salk felt the report, that suggests the new vaccine presents a unique opportunity for eliminating polio, was false in that "no vaccine developed to date can do that."

Boy Electrocuted

WINNIPEG, Man. (AP) — A barefoot boy, Douglas Murray Porter, 6, was electrocuted yesterday by a 115-volt wire laid across a strawberry patch. The owner told police he wanted to protect the berries from birds.

Last Meal Ordered By Felon

Ronald Rittger, 24, who is scheduled to die in the San Quentin gas chamber tomorrow at 10 a.m., ordered a large last meal for this evening.

Associate Warden Dale B. Frady reported that the meal will consist of French onion soup, green salad with shrimp, chicken ravioli, filet mignon steak, artichoke with mayonnaise, tomato juice, coffee, French bread, butter, half-pint of ice cream with whipped cream, two bananas and a large slice of watermelon.

Rittger also requested two, one-dollar cigars.

He asked that Protestant Chaplain Byron E. Eshelman and Catholic Chaplain J. W. Mullen visit him later in the evening. He said he preferred Chaplain Eshelman if only one could come.

Frady said Rittger watched a portable television set in the corridor of Death Row until early this morning. The set was parked in front of Rittger's cell and he listened to the audio portion with earphones, explained Frady.

Dollwet Quits Planners Leaving San Rafael

Nicholas Dollwet last night resigned from the San Rafael Planning Commission because his work is obliging him to move to the East Bay.

He submitted to the planners meeting a copy of a letter to the mayor and city council, saying he must leave his residence in San Rafael "for at least a couple of years."

He added he "looks forward to returning to San Rafael and again participating in the civic endeavors of this beautiful and charming city."

The planning commission accepted his resignation with regret and expressed gratitude for his year and a half service. He had concluded the unexpired term of Leonard A. Thomas, who became municipal judge.

Dollwet told a reporter later he had been named general agent in charge of Alameda and Contra Costa Counties for the Minnesota Mutual Life Insurance Co., a company he has served 11 years. His office will be in Oakland.

Dollwet had lived in Marin County 25 years and for a number of those years had served various civic bodies.

Proposal Against County Overtime Is Turned Down

"I would like to see this board adopt a policy of no overtime for the county," said Supervisor J. Walter Blair to his colleagues yesterday.

But the proposal fell flat, though it played some part in causing fresh postponement—this time until July 3— of decision on the claim first submitted June 9, by Probation Officer Walter H. Busher, for payment to Probation Officer Thomas B. Estes of $23.36 for eight hours of work on Memorial Day.

Chairman William D. Fusselman tried to tell Blair that some departments have occasional stresses creating need for overtime, but Blair stubbornly retorted that "the sheriff can do it," meaning avoid overtime.

"How many does he have?" asked Fusselman, making the point that with a big staff it's easier to avoid overtime than with few people.

Clerk George S. Jones put in that "my department is in need of overtime pay, if any—we keep getting deeper in the hole though we try to do the best we can."

He cited his plight yesterday with a multitude of things going on, including a special election. He said his staff had accumulated several hundred hours of overtime which they were trying to offset by equivalent time off but with scant success due to continual pressure of work.

KEY

wide fields open for negotiations," he insisted.

He noted that already three parts of the area would be left outside the park as a result of discussions between the owners, the Secretary of the Interior and Park Service representatives.

The three are owned by the Vedanta Society of Northern California, a religious retreat in the Bear Valley area, R.C.A. Communications, Inc., and the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, which have radio transmitting and receiving facilities far out on the point.

Miller said the three had agreed to continue present use of their properties if the government would agree to let them remain in private ownership.

"The ranchers probably could make the same kind of an agreement," Miller went on, "but they aren't willing to. Their attorney said so before both the Senate and the House hearings. I think they want to take advantage of speculative operation of their land. I don't blame them."

He declared that the boundaries of about 20,000 acres which the government would be willing to lease back to the ranchers "are flexible. The situation is much more conciliatory and fluid than has been brought out. If the ranchers want a section of the hill on life tenancy, I think they can get it if they agree to continue dairying."

HOSPITAL

Yesterday's election resulted from the continuingly unsolved hospital problem, with Chairman William D. Fusselman initially trying to get a two-million-dollar bond proposal on the ballot. Opposition by his colleagues caused the amount to be halved, and there was difference of opinion about the point that the new hospital could be either in Lucas Valley or elsewhere.

Only last week, the other four supervisors against Fusselman's "no" vote passed a recommendation that a new facility be built in Lucas Valley at less than a million dollars—this money presumably to come from yesterday's bond vote.

Fusselman has said if the voters persist in refusal to approve bonds, he will favor putting the cost of a new county hospital on the tax rate.

The low rent housing idea also came from Fusselman, initially as a means of easing the county hospital situation by letting the federal government pay for a limited number of homes in Lucas Valley near the hospital to be used by ambulatory cases and nurses.

KENNEDY

rather than the extension of power," he said.

Peace, he said, now reigns in Germany and in Berlin. But he declared that "if it is disturbed, it will be a direct Soviet responsibility."

Without knowing of Khrushchev's latest statement in Moscow, the president rejected the idea of dealing with the East Germans.

The Russians, he said, "Say . . . we will be subject to the designs of the East Germany regime and that these designs will be backed by force."

On other matters Kennedy had this to say:

Intelligence — Kennedy said Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor has reported orally to him on a survey of U.S. intelligence capabilities. He said a committee is studying the matter and when it is finished, "we may have some changes."

Summit — Kennedy said his meeting in Vienna with Khrushchev early this month "was useful, certainly to me in meeting my responsibility." Perhaps, he added, it also was useful to Khrushchev.

Laos — Kennedy said the United States still hopes the Geneva conference on Laos can come up with effective ceasefire controls.

Maritime—Since the government subsidizes the American Merchant Marine, Kennedy said it is concerned with the problem of American-owned ships operating under foreign flags in order to benefit, as he put it, from lower wages that can be paid to seamen.

Youth Hurts Foot

Girl, 4, Breaks Arm

Report to MARIN INVESTORS

In searching for under-valued securities, it is helpful to be able to narrow the field by seeking out the seemingly depressed groups and then examining them closely by all analytical tools.

E. F. Hutton & Company has just issued a new survey report which pinpoints selections from nine industrial groups which seemed to be selling at modest levels in view of intermediate and long term prospects.

Nation's Mental Ills Linked To Boredom

NEW YORK (AP)—A Harvard doctor checking the nation's mental and emotional health today declared: "The great sickness of our age is aimlessness, boredom, and lack of meaning and purpose in living.

We can be enthralled by the space age, but almost willfully try to avoid "learning how to understand and control ourselves," said Dr. Dana L. Farnsworth, director of Harvard University health services and staff physician at Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston.

"Medicine has made enormous strides in alleviating pain and prolonging life," he said.

Now an expanded task for doctors is to give "meaning to the life," Farnsworth told the American Medical Association's 110th annual meeting.

He suggested some ways to do this, to overcome the boredom and the sick feelings.

Mental health, he said, is that "state of mind in which people can carry on their activities with satisfaction to themselves, with some responsibility to others, and without making nuisances of themselves to large numbers of other people."

"All persons, with or without mental health, are obliged to suffer in various ways," he continued.

"It is the nature of man to experience frustration, grief, pain, tension, conflict, jealousy, fear and anxiety.

"Happiness is a by-product of resolving—in part or wholly—exasperating and difficult situations."

People become emotionally sick when stresses of living become too much to tolerate, he said. Then they try to compensate somehow, or to avoid or to escape the feelings.

"Feelings of isolation, rejection, inferiority, bitterness, hostility and suspicion exaggerate the usual stresses of ordinary living, and make individuals more vulnerable, and more likely to become emotionally decompensated" or emotionally ill.

To endure their troubles, said Farnsworth, people need "feelings of basic confidence in one's self and others, a sense of competence, and a basic faith that the whole human situation is worthwhile."

Mailboxes Not Allowed To Blush

WASHINGTON (AP) — Postmaster General J. Edward Day has ruled that a U.S. mailbox must not be painted pink even for art's sake.

Day recently received a plea from a Miami, Fla., store which sells women's fashions. The store was putting on a special display calling for an all-pink color scheme, inside and outside the establishment.

The store decorator decided that the red-white-and-blue mailbox on the sidewalk clashed horribly with the pink, and asked a repaint job.

In a talk to the National Postal Union, Day said jokingly the request was turned down because: "The John Birch Society would never let us get away with it."

More seriously, postal officials said that if they made one exception, they might be deluged with requests to paint mailboxes all colors of the spectrum.

WORLD CHURCHES UNION HELD CLOSER

Protestant Leaders Report Trend At Lutheran Meeting In Warsaw

WARSAW (UPI) — Two world Protestant leaders reported a significant trend toward Christian unity as the Lutheran World Federation executive committee opened a five-day meeting here yesterday.

The 33-nation federation chose this predominantly Roman Catholic country for the site of its first meeting in its history to be held in communist-ruled east Europe.

Dr. Franklin C. Fry, chairman of the central committee of the World Council of Churches, praised Pope John XXIII for creating a climate of "greater friendliness than ever before" between Catholic and Protestant churches.

But he reiterated the position of world Protestantism that "unity is not to be won by the return of one part of the Christian church to another, but by uniting the Christian churches."

Dr. Fry told the committee that the Roman Catholic Church apparently had not invited observers to the Vatican council on church unity and that therefore the question of Lutheran representation had not been considered.

Dr. Kurth Schmidt-Clausen, acting executive secretary of the committee, agreed that unifying forces within Christianity have been strengthened "to a remarkable degree" in recent years.

"Furthermore, the growing ecumenical stream within the Roman Catholic Church is significant," he declared. "The relation between Rome and the non-Roman churches have reached a positive stage unparalled in history."

The committee also received a report which appeared to strike at the new U.S. Peace Corps. It questioned whether church agencies should administer food, funds and medical assistance provided by governments for distribution in other countries in non-emergency relief.

Bengt Hoffman, of the federation's department of world service, called Western aid efforts "salutary" but urged the strict separation of church and state in underdeveloped nations to preserve the "non-political" status of religious activities.

Little Hope Seen For Kennedy School Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — House leaders have just about given up hope that President John F. Kennedy's multibillion-dollar aid to education program can be put to a vote this session.

A deep split among Democrats on the Rules Committee over the issue of aid for parochial schools apparently has doomed both Kennedy's 2.5-billion-dollar public school bill and a 1.8-billion-dollar extension of the National Defense Education Act.

The House has a long history of opposition to school bills, having killed three in the last eight years. This time the addition of religious controversy to the normal opposition of conservatives has made the going even tougher.

The threatened demise of the bills in the Rules Committee is a blow not only to Kennedy but to Speaker Sam Rayburn, who won a five-vote victory early in the session over Rep. Howard W. Smith (D-Va.), chairman of the Rules Committee, in a bitter fight for its control.

When Rayburn won the way seemed open for Kennedy's program to get to the floor. But events have played into Smith's hands in the school fight and he now appears firmly in control.

Smith can nearly always count on the votes of the five Republicans on his committee and fellow Democrat William Colmer of Mississippi to defeat any administration bill calling for large expenditures.

Navy Assailed In Disaster Of 'Texas Tower'

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate report today sternly criticized the Navy and the designers and builders of the radar "Texas Tower" that collapsed in a blizzard and carried all hands — 28 men — to their deaths.

The report — which added that the Air Force must also shoulder its share of the blame —bitingly referred to "buck-passing" and "the hodgepodge of indecision."

The terrific forces of winds and waves were clearly miscalculated, the report said.

The 5,000-ton steel structure, perched like a giant three-legged stool in open sea 80 miles off the New Jersey coast, was battered and driven to ocean bottom last Jan. 15 by gale winds and waves.

Earlier this month, the Air Force ordered Col. William M. Banks to stand court-martial, charged with being derelict in duty in connection with the tragedy. Banks was in command of the Boston Air Defense center and the tower was part of its radar network.

The Air Force said Banks had failed to keep himself appraised of the tower's situation. The court-martial's date has not been announced, except that it will start after July 17 at Stewart Air Force Base, N.Y.

In today's report, Sen. John Stennis (D-Miss.) chairman of the Defense Preparedness subcommittee, said a careful examination of expert witnesses "reveals that the design criteria, upon which the final structural integrity was to be based, was clearly inadequate."

FOR NATO SAKE

De Gaulle Plans Step-Up In Algeria Peace Drive

PARIS (AP) — A stepped-up drive by President Charles de Gaulle for a quick end to the seven-year Algerian war was under way today.

It includes bringing French divisions back from the North African territory to the continent, resuming suspended talks with rebel leaders and a renewed threat to partition Algeria into European and Moslem sectors if negotiations fail again.

De Gaulle's aim, according to informed sources, is to break the Algerian impasse in three months—one way or another—in order to make French forces available by fall for the looming crisis in Berlin.

The bulk of France's armed forces, an estimated half million men, is tied down in Algeria. Their absence has weakened the North Atlantic Treaty Organization defense position in Western Europe.

De Gaulle disclosed his new Algerian drive at a garden party at the presidential Elysee Palace last night. In an informal discussion with reporters, he said he had issued orders for the return of one division from Algeria. Without fixing dates, he added he would order others back as well. A French division is about 15,000 men.

Besides strengthening NATO forces on the European continent, the redeployment might also be intended as a peace gesture to the nationalist rebels.

De Gaulle said the peace talks with the rebels—broken off at Evian-les-Bains two weeks ago—will be resumed and "we will see what happens."

Budget Vote Is Delayed In Sausalito

Sausalito city councilmen tugged away at the proposed 1961-62 budget until almost midnight last night, got two thirds of the way through it and then put over adoption of it to July 10.

One of the council's toughest problems was the proposed increase of the library budget and proposed decrease in library hours.

Councilman Michael Harris said he would not vote for a budget which was a 30 per cent increase in funds and a 20 per cent decrease in hours of service. The budget is proposed at $18,225 and the council in a Monday night session tentatively approved this figure.

Library trustees recently voted to try out a system starting July 1 to reduce library hours from 66 per week to 53 in order to give more time to improve the library.

FEELS STRONGLY

Councilman Marjorie Brady concurred with Harris and said that Councilman Howard Sievers, absent, felt strongly about the library remaining open until 9 because evening-school children use it.

Mayor Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. said he wants to give new library hours a trial. Trustee John G. Gallas said the entire library board opposed an 8 o'clock closing but had gone along with it in the interest of improving the library and backing librarian Josephine Ripley.

Mrs. Brady moved the library budget be increased to $18,700, the additional $475 to be added to keep the library open until 9. (Gallas had said this could be done for $500 extra.) The vote failed 2-2 with Councilman George Keeney and Mayor Ehrlich voting "no."

The matter was postponed one hour, discussed again and then it was decided to put it over to July 10 and that trustees would be asked to consider a 60-hour week and also to keep the $18,225 budget.

CLERICAL DUTIES

City Manager Charles A. Brown suggested to the council that city "clerical" duties be separated from the fiscal duties and that a position of controller be established. The matter was put over to July 10.

The council approved keeping the $200 retainer fee for city attorney John B. Ehlen but raising his contractual and professional services from $2,000 to $3,600 per year.

The council put over any decision on an increase in pay for city employees.

The council also:

1. Reappointed John Minton to another term on the recreation commission.
2. Announced a budget hearing for July 10.
3. Heard that burning of grasses in the city will begin in about two weeks.
4. Heard report that traffic lights for emergencies on Bridgeway might cost the city between $5,000 and $15,000.

Teacher Group Calls Wage Schedule Unfair

A spokesman for the San Rafael Teachers Assn. salary committee described wage hikes as unfair last night as trustees granted across the board raises of 7 per cent for administrators, $300 for teachers and $200 for classified (non-teaching) employees.

1. Administrators: $8,400-$13,000 this year to $9,880-$13,910 next year. (The highs reported here are those of the assistant superintendents. The superintendent's salary for next year will not be set until a person is hired to fill the position.)

2. Teachers: $4,500 - $9,060 this year to $4,800-$9,360 next year.

3. Classified employees: Clerks and secretaries, $3,228-$5,448 this year to $3,428 - $5,648 next year; custodians, groundsmen, mechanics, bus drivers, $4,008 - $6,744 this year to $4,208 - $6,944.

Jules E. Chourre, Teachers Assn. Salary Committee chairman, described the raise as unfair. His first contention was that the board should have considered allowing a bigger teacher salary hike if an unexpected influx of federal funds not presently included in the tentative budgets should be allocated to the district during the year.

Board members were opposed to this suggestion. They held that such unexpected income should be used for expenses that had been cut from the budgets in order to permit salary jumps.

Chourre and Paul Woelz, San Rafael High School mathematics teacher, also told the I-J the teacher salary hike did not represent a 6 to 7 per cent increase as was suggested by Raymond J. Simpson, acting superintendent, during the meeting.

The percentage varies, depending on whether yearly increment raises of $240 for up to 16 years are considered as part of the increase.

Chourre introduced a salary schedule proposed by his committee calling for a wage raise of $5,000 to $9,824. It reduced the number of increment raises from 16 to 15 and increased the amount of the increments from $240 to a varying scale of $240, $252, $264, and $276 depending upon the number of graduate college units the teacher had accomplished.

Trustees indicated favor for the reduction in the increment raises. Trustee Rex T. Silvernale suggested 12 such steps. "I think a teacher gains maximum efficiency after he has been with the district about 10 years," Silvernale commented.

The board, however, held that now is not the time to jockey with the salary schedule. They suggested the committee analyze the schedule and prepare it for a complete revision next year.

New Marin Sabella's Opening Tomorrow

Alto volunteer firemen will shoot water from the seven seas over the new Sabella's in Marin restaurant in the christening at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at 555 Redwood Highway, Mill Valley.

Water, flown in, will be squirted over the top of the new building to fall into Richardson Bay at the grand opening.

Salt water fish, which arrived by air last night from Fiji and the West Indies will be on display in special mahogany salt water tanks in the restaurant.

For Angelo Sabella, the opening will be a dream come true. It will be the first time Sabella has had an opportunity in his 35 years in restaurant business to put his ideas together from the ground up in his own restaurant.

Announcing the opening with Sabella are his wife, Vita, his son, Lou Sabella of San Anselmo, and his daughter, Angela Marks of Sausalito. All work at the restaurant.

The new business will be prepared to serve 250 in its circular dining room which faces Mount Tamalpais and up to 300 in separate banquet rooms.

Sabella said he learned a lot about cooking from his mother. "I don't think anyone could equal my mother in cooking," he said.

His father, Luciano, now 90, came to San Francisco in 1887. He was a crab fisherman. They boiled the crabs at home and sold them in the streets.

Ten years ago Sabella opened Sabella's in Marin. He kept it open every day until last Monday when the equipment was moved.

He said the move will not mean any change in prices nor menus. "We will continue to welcome families and people in leisure clothes," he added.

He will continue to handle retail sale of cooked or uncooked seafoods. Restaurant and bar will remain open seven days a week.

Report Made On Streets In Larkspur

The Larkspur subdivision ordinance should be corrected to make a standard for streets, more time on subdivision maps and quicker reporting by the city engineer.

These recommendations were made last night by S. W. (Bud) Eason, chairman of the subcommittee studying the subdivision ordinance. Eason quit the planning commission last month in a flurry of charges about "threats, accusations and bickerings." He returned to the planning commission meeting to make the report of his committee.

These recommendations asked minimum standards for streets to be set up by professional engineers and not lay people. It also recommended that subdivision maps come in seven days prior—instead of 15—to a meeting so that the planning commission could have two meetings instead of one to consider them within the 30 day adoption period.

It also asked for a report from the city engineer within 10 days of the time the map was filed.

The planners denied a request for a greater density at the Blue Rock Hotel. H. C. Wood had made the request so he could build an additional unit.

Front yard set backs were approved for 18 lots in the Greenbrae Subdivision 15.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Joy were granted a lot split. They had asked to take part of two oversized lots and make a third lot on property adjoining 125 Elm Avenue.

The planning commission decided to ask the city council for funds for working on another general plan of the city.

Gate Approved For Blocked Tam Valley Road

Tamalpais Valley Fire Protection District commissioners last night approved a gate to be placed across Wellesley Avenue to replace the barricade placed on the road last month by Francis M. Gelardi of 222 Julia Avenue.

President Raymond J. Massagli said the plan will allow firemen to give protection to six homes. The homes were cut off from fire protection when Gelardi blocked the road saying it was not a road but his own property. A letter is being sent Gelardi to work out details.

The commission also approved a final 1961-62 budget of $35,125, $245 more than the current one.

Tax rate is expected to increase two or three cents, Massagli said, to bring the rate to 68 or 69 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

Elementary School Tax Hike Is Due

The San Rafael Board of Education last night approved an elementary school budget requiring a 10-cent hike in this year total rate of $2.06.

The total budget is $2,097,260.

Acting Supt. Raymond J. Simpson pointed out the increase will be in the general purpose tax. It will jump from $1.65 to $1.75. "Unless there is a material change there should not be any increase in the 11 cent tax for restricted funds (community services and retirement and social security for district employes)," Simpson said.

STATE LOAN

He also emphasized that 30 cents of the total rate is for repayment of a state loan for construction of E Street School. This tax is expected to raise $186,109 for repayment during the coming year if the assessment values go up five per cent. This money goes to the state, leaving an $80,000 to be paid the following year.

The 10 cent general purpose tax increase will be necessary to meet a raise in current expenses of $115,201. The tentative budget calls for $1,598,201. This year's figure was $1,483,000.

The additional cost is due primarily to salaries. Salary raises were granted and four teachers added. This increased the cost of teachers' salaries from an estimated $850,000 this year to $929,000 in the tentative budget.

Administrative wage costs will be up approximately $10,000, amounting to an estimated $167,875 next year. Classified salary will take only a slight increase, moving from $170,401 this year to an estimated $175,701.

COST INCREASE

Instructional costs will be up only $1,000. Simpson pointed out only 50 additional students are expected next year. He set instructional costs tentatively at $47,000.

Capital outlay for equipment was down nearly $25,000. It was dropped to $42,330 in the new budget. Simpson said the cut is necessary to meet other budget needs.

Reserve funds, however, will be up. They are $178,600 this year. The new budget sets them at $239,000.

San Rafael High Dist. Budget Hike On Tap

The San Rafael High School District's tentative budget adopted by trustees last night is nearly $300,000 more than the current budget, but the total tax rate of $1.32 will remain unchanged.

The tentative budget amounts to $1,832,000 as compared to this year's estimated $1,630,000.

Raymond J. Simpson, acting superintendent, pointed out the general purpose portion of the total tax rate cannot be raised to meet the budget increase because it is set at its maximum.

The general purpose tax is used to finance the current expenses, which will jump $235,000 next year. Simpson set the current expense costs at $1,525,900 in the tentative budget.

Simpson said the cost of this increase will be met by a revenue increase through a five per cent raise in assessed valuation and more state and federal funds because of enrollment increases.

The remaining 7 cents in the total $1.32 rate is used for restricted funds (community services and district employees social security and retirement). Simpson said a tax increase in this area is not expected, although the cost will be up from $54,000 to $69,250. Simpson explained that this increased expenditure is due to an addition of 17 high school teachers and pay raises.

The cost of the wages for the 17 new teachers at approximately $5,400 each and teacher pay raises make up more than $130,000 of the hike in current expenses. This year this expense is estimated at $697,000, compared to $830,000 allowed in the tentative budget for the coming year.

Simpson reported instructional supplies costs will be up from $73,000 this year to $92,850 because of 390 more students. The enrollment increase also accounted for $11,000 more in transportation costs, moving this figure to $33,000 next year.

The tentative budget also earmarks $28,000 for new equipment at Terra Linda High School. This is to be added to $16,000 left in a reserve fund established four years ago for this purpose.

Simpson said $15,000 of the budget hike will allow for alterations to a maintenance building and bus shelter at San Rafael High School to permit widening of Third Street.

Capital outlay for other new equipment was also up by approximately $20,000, reaching $75,000 in the tentative budget. Simpson said some of this year's surplus income will be used to balance the budget in this area.

Reserve funds for next year were down $50,000, amounting to $226,000.

Sausalito Council Looking Toward Adding Policeman

The Sausalito City Council last night asked City Manager Charles A. Brown to look into the possibility of raising fines on parking tickets from $1 to $2 and parking meters from five to 10 cents so that additional revenue might be earmarked for the city to get an added police officer.

Councilman George Keeney emphasized the need of added police protection saying that boats are constantly being broken into in the harbors.

He cited recent break-ins in the 38 Village Fair ships. He added that recently he saw Police Chief Howard Goerndt working meters and asked why. Goerndt told him, "I'm the only man. The other man is in court," Keeney said. "We're short of men."

In the audience at 11:30 p.m. were two men and a snoozing woman. Russell Papenhausen echoed Keeney's sentiments saying, "We don't have enough police protection." Walter Benson asked the council "to provide three policemen on duty at all times, one man in patrol car continuously, one on meters and one man in the office."

Runaway Truck On Sausalito Hill

Brake failure on a pickup truck caused the truck to roll down steep Edwards Avenue in Sausalito at 4 p.m. yesterday, strike the car of John Bohansky of Greenbrae and tip it over, Sausalito police reported today.

Driver Charles Edward Day of Hayward parked the truck, owned by Ghilotti Bros. of San Rafael, at 40 Edwards Avenue just before 4. When the handbrakes failed, it rolled down and caused extensive damage to Bohansky's car. Bohansky lives at 46 El Portal Drive.

Traffic Tied Up On Highway 101

Commute traffic on Highway 101 southbound backed up from Marin City to Corte Madera during a 45-minute tie-up about 7 this morning, due to a four car "rear-ender" in which five suffered minor injuries.

California Highway Patrol investigation indicated that a vehicle occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Siewert of 847 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Kentfield, bumped the vehicle ahead as traffic slowed, this in turn causing two more collisions.

Treated at Marin General Hospital for cuts and bruises were the Siewerts and three San Rafael residents—Carole Collins of 16 Welsh Street, Janyce Cornett of 1514 Second Street, and Jean Wood of 189 Blackstone Drive.

Sausalito Approves 90 Apartment Units

F. Bruce Bernhard received approval from the Sausalito City Council last night for a use permit and a variance to permit him to build 90 apartment units in nine buildings.

The apartments are to be built on four acres of land bounded on two sides by Rodeo Avenue and on one side by Highway 101.

Variance was required to permit building of more than one building upon one lot. The approval was given with the provision that Bernhard agree to maintain the internal access for police and fire vehicles and that the property not be divided.

Decision Delayed On Mrs. Wolcott

The San Anselmo City Council will decide on July 11 what to do about city employee Catherine Wolcott, who was dismissed as of June.

The council last night put off discussion on the advice of City Atty. John G. Buresh. Mrs. Wolcott, stenographer-clerk, lost her job when the council abolished her position "for economy reasons."

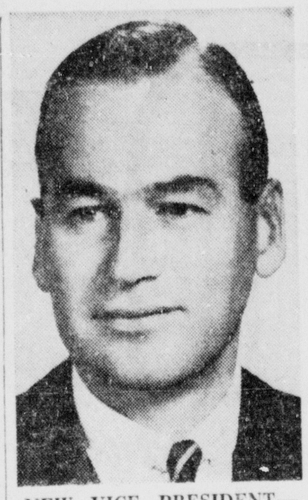
The San Anselmo Board of Review, in a letter to the council, said it feels the dismissal of Mrs. Wolcott was "not justified." Buresh told the council this explanation by the board of review was too general, and the council need not act upon it.

He asked chairman of the board, Laurie Antolini if they would consider meeting again and "spell out some of the reason's for the opinion." The council concurred.

Antolini told the council that he and the board did not realize when they met last Wednesday that they were to present more than just an opinion. He said they would "be glad to meet again and present reasons to the council."

Attorney Buresh said he did not agree with the board's opinion. "I'm satisfied that there was no violation and I can prove it," he added.

Mayor Carleton G. E. Little told Antolini that he and the council wanted to thank the board for a "fine job."



NEW VICE PRESIDENT—Theodore A. Griffinger, 516 Goodhill Road, Kentfield, has been promoted to vice president of Bank of America's Municipal Bond Department. He has been assistant head of this department since 1955. He joined the bank in 1948.

San Rafael Planners Reject Rezoning Bid

The San Rafael Planning Commission last night enthusiastically rejected requests to rezone 11 lots in the area where Fair Drive turns eastward and runs into Lincoln Avenue.

The area is a short distance west of Highway 101.

The commission voted to approve no change in the area until the state highway program is clarified. Owners of the property wanted rezoning for motels and commercial establishments.

R. E. Nolan of San Rafael, owner of seven lots, and Mrs. Constance Schwarzer of Sonoma, owner of four lots, contended the State Division of Highways planned to gobble up considerable of the land for widening of 101.

But several planning commission members said they had received no definite word as to just what the state intended doing in the area.

Before the action was taken James Garrett, city planner and assistant city manager, read a number of letters from citizens living near the controversial area—all opposing rezoning.

In addition a number of neighbors attended the meeting, held in the E Street School gym instead of the City Hall. Like the letter writers, the citizens in person all opposed rezoning.

Nolan wanted his lots rezoned from single family residential to transient residential (motel). Mrs. Schwarzer, accompanied by her husband, wanted her property changed to restricted commercial.

Two of her lots are now single family residential, and two are transient residential.

In the one other item last night the commission granted architectural approval to the D. M. Christensen Construction Co. for a 32-unit apartment house, the Bayview Arms, on the southeast corner of Fairfax and Canal streets.

Work already has begun on the project designed by Edward Hageman and Associates.

General Leaving Base For Paris

Maj. Gen. and Mrs. John D. Stevenson will be guests at a reception at Hamilton Air Force Base Officers Club tonight as they prepare to leave for Stevenson's new post near Paris.

Stevenson will give up command of the 28th Air Division-Sage, which has its headquarters at Hamilton, to become assistant chief of staff for air and special operations of Supreme Headquarters, Allied Powers in Europe.

WHO DROVE LIMOUSINE WITH BIG '1'

The big, shiny, long black limousine with a "1" on the New Mexico license plate and a discreet sign saying "governor" was the talk of Novato yesterday.

But the governor wasn't in it. Charles Pack, New Mexico highway patrolman and chauffeur for the governor, was getting a haircut in downtown Novato.

Gov. John Burroughs is in Hawaii at the annual governors conference. Pack is visiting his uncle, C. L. Pack, 657 Olive Street, Novato, and was to pick up Burroughs in San Francisco today for the trip back to New Mexico.

Sanitary District Approves Budget

The board of the Sausalito-Marin City Sanitary District adopted a final $93,800 budget for 1961-62 Monday night, Chairman Loren L. Jay said today.

The budget is $13,490 more than this year's $80,310. One main reason for the increase is for the major rebuilding job to be done on one of the district's lift stations.

No change is expected, Jay said, in the present tax rate which is 15 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

Novato Taxi Firms Vying For Business End In Draw

Two cab companies vying for Novato business ended in a draw last night when city councilmen took under submission their requests for operating permits.

The council may grant permits to both or only one company for all of their requested cabs or only some of them.

Louis Worden and his son, Robert, are asking permission to operate three cabs in the city and add a fourth in the future under the Novato Yellow Cab label.

Mrs. Consuelo LeCam is requesting to operate two cabs, possibly adding another later for the Novato Cab Co. The business would be operated by her husband, Marcelle LeCam.

"Novato needs four cabs but an overrun of cabs causes loss of money," Worden told councilmen.

"I don't think competition will hurt anybody," LeCam answered, speaking for his wife. He later charged Worden with cutting rates. Worden countered that he had kept the same rates as those charged by the previous owner.

Councilmen agreed to consider the matter and possibly come to a decision at their Aug. 8 meeting.

Council Gets Petition On Highway

A petition containing 266 signatures and asking that highway 101 be left at its present route through the city was presented to Novato city councilmen last night.

But John Sorum, 699 Orange Street, who gave the petition to councilmen, said it may not mean what it says. Residents signed it opposing relocation of the highway near the Northwestern Pacific Railroad tracks and asked that it be left on the present route through the center of the city.

But signers do not oppose moving the route far to the east of the city, Sorum contended and were not aware of that possible alternative.

City councilmen agreed to accept the petition at face value.

New Planner Named For Sausalito

Hugh G. Lawrence, a Sausalito attorney, was appointed as planning commissioner last night by the Sausalito City Council.

Lawrence has lived in Sausalito four years and has had his firm at 31 Caledonia Street for one year. He resides at 429 Johnson Street with his wife, Arillyn, and 6-month-old son, Michael.

San Anselmo Approves Budget Of $650,000

The San Anselmo City Council in a 3-to-1 vote last night formally approved a 1961-62 budget of $650,269.

Councilman Arthur W. Smith voted against the budget because he said it "doesn't give all city employees a raise." Smith pointed out that only some of the higher paid employees were given raises and it "wasn't fair to the 'man-in-the-street' worker."

Councilman Robert E. Rouse was absent, but was present for the informal approval of the budget Friday, after three public hearings.

The sum is $38,000 less than last year's budget and will allow the tax rate to be dropped from $1.33 per $100 assessed valuation to $1.25.

Mozart Kaufman, San Anselmo business man, was appointed by the council as temporary chairman of a citizens committee to study methods of financing the three million dollar downtown development plan. Kaufman was requested to work with the council in selecting a committee for which applications are still being received.

The council decided to appoint a financial consultant to also study downtown plans after the citizen committee is appointed.

Mayor Carleton G. E. Little introduced a resolution creating a five-member park and recreation commission for the city to study a long range recreation program. It was unanimously approved.

In other action, the council:

1. Approved the storage in Fire Station No. 2 of a Civil Defense radiological trailer.
2. Granted a 15-day extension to the contractor for the city library renovation.
3. Called for bids on three types of downtown street lights of standard illumination.
4. Awarded contract to build 868 square feet of sidewalk at Fire Station No. 2 to D. M. Brownlee, Inc. of Novato for low bid of $340.
5. Appointed two new lieutenants in the fire department: William M. Sousa of 1341 San Anselmo Avenue and Robert C. Beedle of 178 Los Angeles Boulevard, San Anselmo. Their salaries will be $530 per month as compared to firemen's $505.
6. Announced adjourned meeting July 10 at 8 p.m., city hall, to interview qualified applicants for position of city controller. The council expects to appoint one at regular meeting, July 11.
7. Granted the Richfield Oil Co. the right to replace its advertising sign that would extend some two feet over sidewalk (17 feet above the ground) in 1600 block of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.
8. Granted Douglas Oil Co. variance to build a service station at Redhill and Buena Vista avenues and erect an advertising sign on the property.
9. Approved waiver of sidewalks, curb and gutter at Redwood and Floribel Avenues on street being worked on by Little Gem Construction Co. of Sausalito.
10. Sent question of approval of waiver of sidewalks, curb and gutter at Oak Springs Road and Angela Avenue back to city planning commission.

Parks Group Discussed For Novato

Novato city councilmen agreed last night to consider appointment of a city parks and recreation commission at their July 11 meeting when they will be checking the city budget for the coming fiscal year.

The plea for a commission came from F. J. Picchi, chairman of a citizens committee studying recreation. Picchi suggested the commission members, unpaid, would be an advisory group which would develop a recreation program without any cost to the city.

But City Administrator J. Julien Baget asked a pause in consideration until budget time, when he may have estimates on the needed clerical and supply expenditures for a commission. Councilmen agreed.

In other business, councilmen:

1. Introduced an ordinance for annexation of 46 acres of property on the city's northern boundaries with final approval expected at the July 11 meeting.
2. Sent back to the city planning commission for reconsideration a proposed special trailer court zone which originally had set a maximum of 10 trailers per acre in a court and set forth other trailer court regulations. Councilmen suggested a 12-trailer maximum, an idea backed by H. C. (Gus) Ravetz, San Francisco, who wants to build a large trailer park in the city.
3. Introduced an ordinance rezoning the Richard Hanna property near Highway 37 and 101 for planned industrial use and deleting density and height restrictions. The area is planned for an industrial park.
4. Requested from the county department of public works a recommendation on what city policy should be on drainage improvements on private property. Lee M. Baxter, 716 Tamalpais Avenue, is requesting aid in a drainage problem near his home which he says was caused by culvert construction nearby.
5. Approved improvement of Industrial Way from Second to Fourth Streets and possibly from First to Fourth Streets if all property owners will contribute to the project. City share for putting a solid top on the gravel alley would be $4,020 from Second to Fourth.
6. Voted backing of the Southern Pacific Railroad over the Santa Fe Railroad in its attempt before the Interstate Commerce Commission to gain approval of buying controlling stock in Western Pacific Railroad. Company representatives who talked to the council for less than 10 minutes each said the proposed move would not directly affect Novato.
7. Approved payment of $550 to the Novato Chamber of Commerce for printing of 5,000 brochures describing the city.

Carnival Idea Out In Novato

Novato residents won't be seeing many carnivals if city councilmen follow a policy stated at last night's city council meeting.

Councilmen by a 3-2 vote turned down a request by the Novato American Legion to waive the carnival license fee of $300 plus $100 daily.

Legion adjutant Miles W. Ross said the Legion had been guaranteed at least $1,000, all of which was to be given to Novato High School for scholarships or bleachers.

"Unless it's a promotion for the entire city such as Western Weekend, I'm against carnivals as such," said Mayor Wayne Womack.

"The only thing I have against them is they take money out of the community," councilman John J. Angeloni continued.

Womack and Councilmen Everett Pozzi and Charles R. Johnson voted against the waiver, generally on the grounds that carnival reputations are not the best. Councilmen Angeloni and Silva were for approval.

Asked if they would approve the carnival if the license fee were paid, the same 3-2 vote informally rejected the idea.

New Straw Hat Revenue Schedule

A new three-performances-a-week schedule has been announced by the Festival Theater for its Straw Hat Revue, "If You Can't Lick 'Em!"

Through July 15, there will be performances on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings at 8:30 in the theater on the San Francisco Theological Seminary campus in San Anselmo.

Wednesday night performances have been dropped from the schedule. Special family night ticket prices are in effect on Thursday evenings.

Marinship Robbery

Harry Hill, manager of the Service Lumber Co. in Marinship, reported Monday to Sausalito police that the firm's office was broken into over the weekend. Stolen were one case of bourbon, a $200 power saw and $5 in change. Entry was made with a screw driver and pry bar.

Old-Timer Gives Longevity Advice

EAST ORANGE, N.J. (AP) — Walter Godfrey, 100 years old, has a recipe for living to a ripe old age.

"If you keep busy you'll last longer," he says.

PREVIEW TILT IN SAN RAFAEL TONIGHT

State Semi-Pro Tourney Opens Friday

Baseball fans anxiously awaiting the opening of the California State Semi-Pro Tournament in San Rafael Friday night can whet their appetites tonight and at the same time help the local entry meet their financial obligations.

A tournament preview will be played at San Rafael's Albert Park tonight between the San Rafael Merchants and the Giant Rookies of San Francisco. Proceeds will help sponsor the "orphan" Merchants through the season, including the forthcoming tournament. Batter-up time tonight is 8 o'clock.

While the San Rafael club features mainly local high school stars in its lineup, supplemented by a few college standouts and semi-pro veterans, the opponents tonight, the Giant Rookies, are composed mainly of college stars.

Four University of San Francisco standouts, including outfielder Bill Gallagher, former Drake High athlete, play for the Rookies. He bats cleanup and during the college season averaged .300. The other USFers are pitcher Jerry Eilers, third baseman-catcher Lou Zuardo and first baseman-pitcher John Cunningham.

Five of the Rookies' starters batted above .300 in college. Besides Gallagher, they are Dave Moore from University of Oregon, third baseman, .367; catcher Larry Hamman, San Mateo J. C., .350; shortstop Jerry Scott, San Mateo J. C., .320, and outfielder Neal Austinson, Santa Rosa J. C., .313.

All officials for tonight's game have donated their services for the benefit of the Merchants. Included are the umpires, James Rice, Joe Serpa and Joe Farani.

Following tonight's "preview," the Merchants will draw the honor of officially opening the State Tournament Friday night. Their opponent then will be the San Francisco Misracks at 8 p.m.

Five other games are on the opening weekend's agenda, including a double-header Saturday and triple-header Sunday. Saturday's schedule is: 2 p.m., Pleasant Hill Diablos vs Melody Ramblers of Richmond; 8 p.m., Ongaro Plumbers of San Anselmo vs Walnut Creek Merchants. Sunday it will be: 1 p.m., Mill Valley Merchants vs. winner of Friday night's game; 6 p.m., Placerville Outlaws vs. Acme Carpets of Oakland; 9 p.m., Humboldt Crabs of Eureka vs winner of Saturday's 2 p.m. game.

The first half of the tournament runs through July 9. The second half opens July 28 and continues through mid-August.

Hatzell Radio of El Cerrito, the defending champion, will make its 1961 debut in the second half of the tourney.

MERCHANT CATCHER—Lu Haas, versatile athlete from Novato High School and catcher for the San Rafael Merchants, will be behind the plate tonight when the Merchants play the Giant Rookies of San Francisco. The game, a preview of the State Semi-Pro Tournament to open Friday in San Rafael's Albert Park, will be played at the same field starting at 8 o'clock. (Karl Barron photo)

CONNOLLY

"The happiness and misery of men depends no less on temper than fortune."

Those timely words were written by a Frenchman who didn't know a baseball bat from the handle of a broomstick. But he sure knew what he was talking about, did the good Francois, Duc de la Rochefoucauld.

Now I doubt very much that Manager Alvin Dark of the San Francisco Giants has had his nose in the classics lately. Or ever. But judging by results, Dark should lose his temper more often and depend not so much on the whims of fortune.

After Alvin's mighty men had left 12 men on base and scored nary a run against the cellar-dwelling Philadelphia Phillies, our leader really threw himself a dandy winging. It must have been a soul shaking sight to the Giants to see their soft spoken manager throwing furniture and blowing off steam.

A MAN outspoken against profanity in any form, Preacher Dark may not have spoken The Word in the clubhouse. But I'll bet he thought it.

The result of this unexpected and violent loss of temper was an unmerciful clobbering of the same Phillies last night by a score of 12 to 5. (Let's forget the ninth inning!)

In general, ball players are a pretty complacent lot, inclined to do their individual jobs well, but often forgetting the importance of team effort. All that matters is the batting average, the pitching record and the old pay check.

LAST YEAR'S champion Pittsburgh Pirates put together a team effort and it carried them to the top. This year's example is the Cincinnati Reds, who have put together a bunch of junk, wrapped it up with baling wire, and come up with a front runner.

Our Giants have been looking pretty sad lately, but there is nothing wrong with them that a good winning streak won't cure. But winning streaks are made up of team effort as well as individual excellence. For the first few weeks of the year Dark had a dugout full of fire, but the flame has been burning low.

PERHAPS a few snarls from the boss is just what is needed. As a player, Dark was not exactly a "good loser," and the mantle of leadership should not make losing a virtue.

Had the Duke of Rochefoucauld been a baseball writer he would have pointed out that when he spoke of the "happiness and misery of men" he was not referring to the team but to the loyal and long suffering fans at home.

Majors Move To Curtail Whopping Bonus Payoffs

CHICAGO (AP) — In a short joint meeting yesterday the two major baseball leagues decided on an over-all program which would curtail excessive bonuses, streamline minor league clubs and build for the future.

In reviewing the joint session for newsmen, Commissioner Ford Frick said it would take 10 years to put the leagues' houses in order. But he said the bonus problems and the minor league organizations could be worked out.

Frick said the 1962 All-Star game had been awarded to the Washington Senators. He added that any decision to continue the new practice holding two All-Star games will be made at a meeting of player representatives and league owners in December.

The commissioner said he will soon appoint a committee to draw up a plan for bonus legislation.

In regard to the minor leagues, Frick said he would like a plan to guarantee enough teams to supply talent to 20 major league baseball clubs.

Braves Are Moving, But On A Treadmill

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The long malingering Milwaukee Braves may be on the move, but they're chasing first-place Cincinnati on a treadmill in that National League pennant race.

With right-hander Bob Buhl winning his second in a row and pitching his first shutout of the season in a 3-0 victory at St. Louis last night, the Braves bounced back to .500 for the first time since Memorial Day. It was their seventh success in nine games and moved them within one game of fourth-place Pittsburgh, but they're still 9½ lengths back of Cincinnati.

Fact is, the Braves are the only club in the N.L. that hasn't lost ground to the Reds over the past 10 days — they also were 9½ games behind on June 18. In that span, Milwaukee has picked up two games on Los Angeles, 3½ on San Francisco and three on Pittsburgh, the 2-3-4 clubs behind Cincinnati.

THREE-GAME LEAD

The Reds retained a three-game lead with a comeback, 10-8 decision over the Chicago Cubs for their 11th victory in 13 games. Los Angeles beat Pittsburgh 9-5, and San Francisco hammered Philadelphia 12-5.

Buhl (5-5) shut out the Cardinals on six hits. He walked one and struck out five while outdueling southpaw Curt Simmons (2-7), who allowed seven hits. A single by Frank Thomas and a double by Frank Bolling gave Milwaukee a second-inning run, and Ed Mathews iced it with his 18th homer, a two-run shot, in the sixth.

Five of the Cards' hits were singles. The other was a double by Stan Musial—on his 10,000th at bat, a figure topped only by Ty Cobb, Tris Speaker, Honus Wagner and Rabbit Maranville in major league history.

PINCH-HIT RALLY

The Reds, after blowing a 3-1 lead, beat the Cubs with five runs in the seventh inning after two were out. Four consecutive pinch hitters reached base in the rally, which was capped by a three-run, pinch triple by Jerry Lynch. Jay Hook won his first, in relief. Bob Anderson (4-6) was the loser in relief. Billy Williams, Sammy Taylor and Don Zimmer homered for the Cubs, with Taylor belting two for three RBIs.

Five hits, one a two-run double by Norm Larker, gave the Dodgers a four-run third inning and a decisive 6-1 lead against Pittsburgh starter Bob Friend (8-8). Dick Farrell (6-5) was the winner in relief. The two clubs swung for 30 hits, 16 by the Dodgers. It was the fourth defeat in five games for the Pirates, who benched shortstop Dick Groat and second baseman Bill Mazeroski, the heroes of last year's pennant and world championship.

Humiliating 6-5 Loss For Ward In Cal Golf

PEBBLE BEACH (UPI) — The favorites, with the exception of ill-fated former national amateur champion Harvie Ward, pushed into the third round of the 50th annual State Amateur Gold Tournament today.

Defending champion Larry Bouchey, National Public Links king Verne Callison, 1960 State runner-up Jack Bariteau, former champion Elmer Clites, 1958 runner-up Dick Runkle and former National Public Links champ Gene Andrews all won second round matches.

But Ward, the San Francisco automobile salesman who has won the U.S. Amateur crown twice and the British Amateur once, ran into a buzz saw and was handed one of the most humiliating defeats of his career.

Seymour Black, an unheralded school teacher from Monterey Park, near Los Angeles, blistered Ward with a 6-5 shellacking—going five-under-par for the 13 holes played.

"It was the best golf I ever played," said Black after the victory. "I sat up half the night playing hearts—thinking I had no chance against a great player like Ward."

Black had a 46 on the front nine at Pebble Beach in a practice round Saturday. Yesterday he had a four-under-par 32 for the same distance. En route to his victory he knocked in birdie putts of 20 and 30 feet, and chipped in for another birdie from 90 feet.

Bouchey was even par in ousting young Dr. Ted Nelson of San Diego, 6-5. Callison, from Sacramento, was one over par in gaining a hard-earned 1-up victory over Don Bridges, Vallejo.

Lavorante-Ratliff Winner May Meet McNeeley Next

Promoter Bennie Ford wants the fast-rising Boston heavyweight, Tom McNeeley to meet the winner of tomorrow night's Alejandro Lavorante - Monroe Ratliff bout in San Francisco Civic Auditorium.

Ford said yesterday he had offered McNeeley a $15,000 guarantee for the proposed bout, which would be held in late July or early August.

Lavorante, a native of Argentina, is also considered a bright prospect. He zoomed into the heavyweight picture last month by knocking out Zora Folley in the seventh round. Ratliff is regarded as a trial horse for him.

McNeeley, undefeated in 23 fights, has been rumored as a possible foe for world champion Floyd Patterson later this year.

Having wound up his gym boxing in preparation for tomorrow's 10-rounder, Lavorante has impressed local followers with his amazing speed.

Crowds which jammed Newman's Gym for a preview peek at the colorful Argentine warrior looked for a terrific right hand punch—and saw it often enough, and also witnessed lightning-like moves afoot, comparable to a welterweight boxer as well.

If there is a flaw in this 207-pound, 23-year-old prospect's style, it is his lack of finesse in fighting close. Lavorante, with only 14 professional bouts under his belt, has obviously not learned the all-important techniques of infighting—and it is in that department that opponent Ratliff excels.

Some of the smarter boxing men around the Bay Area have already indicated that Ratliff, no slouch himself as a belter, has a style that definitely figures to bother the tall, rangy Argentine battler. The winner over Ruben Vargas and Sixto Rodriguez, among others, Ratliff punches viciously in close, as well as at long range.

Tickets for the bout are priced at $2, $4 and $6 by the Golden Gate Boxing Club.

Hub Senior Loop Lead Knotted Up

Herb's Sports Shop moved into a first place tie in the tight San Anselmo Senior League last night with a 6-2 win over Iacopi Meat Co.

The Sports pulled even with Currie Construction Co., each with five wins and three losses. Iacopi is next with 4-6 and Guasco last with 3-5.

Tomorrow Guasco and Currie play at 6 p.m. at Memorial Park.

Herb's collected all its runs on two hits in the second inning last night. Ted Westerhold went on in the second for Iacopi and pitched hitless ball to blank the winners the rest of the way.

Iacopi got four hits off Pat Windrick and Charles Simontacchi, two of them singles by Phil Hiaring, who was two for three and scored one of the two Iacopi runs.

Herb's third baseman Bill Nacca homered in the second with none on to start the Sports' one big inning.

ATHENE STILL LEADS RACE TO TAHITI

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Athene, a 63-foot-long San Francisco yawl, was in the lead yesterday of the Los Angeles-Tahiti Yacht Race, according to a radio report from the Good News, another San Francisco entry.

The standings in corrected time order: 1—Athene, 1,972 miles from Papeete, Tahiti; 2—Novia Del Mar, 1,952; 3—Morning Star, 1,943; 4—Good News, 2,013; and 5—Alert, 2,306.

The crew aboard the Good News had bad news about the two other entries, Farida and Mariachi. Poor radio reception kept any information on their position from being available.

The distance from Southern California to exotic Tahiti is 3,571 miles, as the sea gull flies.

SOX STREAK

Nobody Is This Good, Says Lopez

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Chicago White Sox, stone cold in the cellar little more than two weeks ago, suddenly are battling to make room at the top in the American League pennant race after searing even first-place Detroit in their sizzling comeback.

The Sox moved into fourth place with a 12-game streak, their longest since 1951, by knocking off the Tigers 6-5 and 11-1 in a twi-night doubleheader before a standing room crowd of 57,271 at Detroit last night. That's the longest winning string — and the biggest crowd—in the majors this season.

The sweep made it 19 victories in 20 games for Chicago, now only 7½ games out of first and within three games of third-place Cleveland. The White Sox were 10th, 15½ games behind first-place Cleveland when the streak began June 11.

Manager Al Lopez, who admits "nobody is this good," went for broke in the opener, using three starting pitchers. But he relaxed in the nightcap as the Sox paired a 19-hit barrage with Juan Pizarro's near shutout and shaved Detroit's lead to a half-game.

YANKS BLOW CHANCE

The second-place New York Yankees, who could have taken over first with a victory were beaten 7-6 at Los Angeles.

The Sox, working behind Frank Baumann, Don Larsen, Warren Hacker, Billy Pierce and Turk Lown, won the first game on a two-run homer by Minnie Minoso in the eighth inning off losing reliever Paul Foytack (5-5). Baumann also homered for Chicago. Rocky Colavito and Foytack hit home runs for Detroit as the Tigers wiped out a 4-0 Sox lead. Hacker (2-1) was the winner.

Every man in the Sox line-up except Nellie Fox drove in a run in the second game. Pizarro (4-0) held the Tigers hitless for 5⅓ innings and kept them scoreless until the ninth, finishing with a five-hitter. Phil Regan (7-3) was the loser as Detroit dropped two in a row for the first time in three weeks.

Eddie Yost, with only two RBI all season, drove in four runs against the Yankees and brought the Angels from behind with a winning, three-run homer in the fifth inning against Bud Daley (5-10). Ken Hunt also walloped a three-run homer for the Angels, whose first four runs were unearned. The Yanks, scoring three unearned runs, had homers by Bob Cerv and Billy Gardner. Ted Bowsfield (4-2) was the winner, with three innings of one-hit, shutout relief by ex-Yank Eli Grba.

Burning Question: When Will S. F. Win Regularly Again?

(COMBINED AP & UPI)

PHILADELPHIA — If Manager Alvin Dark's blood and fingers hold out, his San Francisco Giants may forge toward the top of the standings again.

Monday night in the opener of a four game set with the last place Phillies the Giants lost 1-0, leaving 12 men on the bases, including six in the last three innings.

This shook up Dark so badly he:

Thus spurred, his troops last night blasted the Phils 12-5 and left only four stranded. This made Dark happy but the fact the Phils managed five runs in the ninth didn't and the shadow that has lately plagued the erstwhile National League leaders remains:

When will they start winning regularly again—and look good doing it?

SLIM EDGE

Last night's victory gives the Giants a 6-5 edge over the Phils, as compared to league-leading Cincinnati's 12-game sweep against the tail-enders.

The Giants continue their battle with the Phils tonight as rookie lefty Dick LeMay (1-0) faces one of Philadelphia's tougher moundsmen, Chris Short (2-3).

The Giants pounded four Philadelphia hurlers for 13 hits last night, but it was a pair of errors by catcher Clay Dalrymple that helped San Francisco the most.

In the fourth, starter John Buzhardt might have got off the hook, but Dalrymple was called for blocking Orlando Cepeda between third and home, and the Giants had one run in and no outs instead of no runs in and one out. They scored twice more.

CATCHER BOOED

In the seventh, another bobble by Dalrymple again opened the floodgates and five runs paraded across the plate.

The always outspoken Philadelphia fans booed Dalrymple long and loudly the next time he came up to bat.

But the Giants generated plenty of power on their own as every San Francisco starter got hits except for Jose Pagan, Jim Davenport and Juan Marichal, who don't get paid for their batting ability anyway.

Rookie catcher Tom Haller finally found his batting eye to lead the Giants with two hits good for three runs-batted-in. Orlando Cepeda continued to rocket hits off the walls in frightening fashion and he had three hits good for two runs-batted in. He now leads the league in that department with 61—an impressive total since the season is not yet half over.

Marichal pitched eight shutout innings and then ran out of gas. Manager Al Dark tried to let him go all the way, but finally gave up as Phils continued to connect. Stu Miller took over and was also shelled a bit before getting the side out. But the Phils' five-run outburst was too little and too late.

Marin Netters Advance In Nat'l Tourney

Reed Witt of Larkspur, upset in his bid for the California Junior Tennis Championship last weekend, advanced in the National Junior Hardcourt Tournament yesterday and the Stockton family of San Rafael continued its winning ways at the Peninsula Tennis Club.

Witt, playing in the 18 and under age singles, easily eliminated Richard Anderson 6-0, 6-1.

The three Stockton brothers accounted for four victories yesterday. Ten-year-old Dickie Stockton picked up a pair of wins—6-2, 6-3 over John Hynes in the 11 and under division and 6-1, 6-0 over Roger Bird in the 13 class.

His older brothers each won a match. In the 15 class Steve Stockton downed Tom Deardorff 6-1, 6-0 and in the 13 division John Stockton turned back Don Deardorff.

In other matches involving Marin juniors, Harvey Klyce of San Rafael scored a 6-4, 6-4 decision over Alvara Ovalle in the 18 and under singles; Robin Pritzker of Mill Valley beat Vickie Beale 6-0, 6-1 in girls 13 and under singles and Glen Pritzker lost to James Aikens in the 18 and under group.

For 60 Years There's Been A Logan In The Giant Clubhouse

HANLEY

PHILADELPHIA — For more than half a century there always has been a Logan in the Giant clubhouse. Much longer. Sixty years ago the first Logan, Fred, became the club house manager and boss of all equipment. When he died in 1947, the son he had trained for the job succeeded him.

The Logans, father and son, kept clubhouse secrets through the years. No clubhouse leak ever was traced to either of them. That was the way Fred taught his son, Eddie, and that is the way Eddie has taught his two sons, Eddie Jr., 20, and Roger, 16, although neither of them probably will follow their father into a third generation of clubhouse managers.

"They're going to get an education," said Eddie Sr. today as he watched Roger with parental pride. Roger was donning the batboy uniform of the Giants. He had just come down from New York, it being vacation time, to see his Pop—and take over the very important four-day job of batboy during the Philly series.

"I KNOW they've been saying since the turn of the century that 'there'll always be a Logan in the clubhouse'," said Eddie Sr. "But my oldest son, Eddie, plans to go into the Air Force after his graduation from Arizona State next year and I want Roger to go to college, too. Sure, this is a wonderful experience for Roger. What high school boy with a love for baseball wouldn't jump at the chance of being batboy for the Giants?"

As he began tidying up here and there — for the title club house manager covers many duties — Eddie Sr. fell into a nostalgic mood, recalling the days of long ago when he was a batboy and the hero worship he felt for Giants of a bygone era.

"But most of all I remember what my father told me the first time he took me into the club house," he said. "'Whatever you hear in here — let it be, let it remain behind the doors.'"

Fred Logan was so trusted that in the era prior to 1923 before Yankee Stadium was built and the Yankees shared the Polo Grounds, he was the clubhouse manager for both Yankees and Giants.

"I THINK that was quite a tribute to his integrity," said Eddie Sr.

Now that John McGraw and Mel Ott no longer are around, Eddie Sr. doesn't mind spinning a story or two about them.

"There's no harm in it now," he said. "McGraw, as everyone knows, was a strict disciplinarian and no member of the team even took a shower until he came into the club house and entered his office. But one day Ott took an early shower. McGraw in one sweeping glance knew Ott was the culprit and sought him out. Ott, without a stitch on, was tipped McGraw was after him. He hid in the nearest available place—you know where — and stayed there until everyone left the club house.

"McGraw knew where he was hiding and ordered my father to lock the clubhouse."

Thereafter, Ott never took an early shower and neither did any other Giant.

Skindivers To Compete This Sunday

The second and final Central California Council of Skindiving Clubs Competitive Skindiving Championship meet will be held at Salt Point Ranch Sunday.

Salt Point Ranch is located seven and a half miles north of Fort Ross in Sonoma County.

Forty clubs are entered and will send 120 divers into the water. The first meet was held in Santa Cruz on May 21. The winners were the Moby Dicks in the men's division and the Aqua Marins of the women's division. Top individual diver of the meet was Roger Chung of the Moby Dicks.

All teams will be out to win the Cen-Cal championship. The winning team will travel to Rhode Island to compete in the National Skindiving Championships on August 20. The team having the largest total of points from both Cen-Cal meets will be the winners.

All fish caught at the Salt Point Ranch meet will be donated to the St. Vincent's School for Boys.

MINNESOTA TURNING OUT FOR TWINS

NEW YORK (AP) — The expansion move that led to the transfer of the Washington Senators to Minnesota is paying off in attendance dividends for the Twins.

The St. Paul-Minneapolis entry zoomed past the 500,000 mark on the strength of its three-game weekend series with the New York Yankees that drew 101,291.

The Twins' attendance for 33 home dates through Sundays games was 519,627. In 33 dates in Griffith Stadium, Washington, last season their attendance was 322,203.

Figures compiled by the Associated Press show that 7,727,828 fans have paid their way into major league parks. This represents a decrease of 8.3 per cent from last season's 16-team total of 8,424,735.

Flyweight Champ 'Fighter Of Month'

NEW YORK (UPI)—Pone Kingpetch, the world flyweight champion from Thailand, today was named "Fighter of the Month" for June by Ring Magazine after his successful defense in Tokyo against Mitsunori Seki of Japan.

There were no major changes in the top rankings in the heavyweight class although Bob Cleroux of Montreal advanced a peg to No. 9 by stopping Roy Harris and Alex Miteff. Tom McNeely, unbeaten Arlington, Mass., boxer who is being considered as a September foe for heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson, was listed No. 10.

In the light heavy class, Giulo Rinaldi of Italy, beaten in his title bid by Archie Moore, dropped to No. 3 as Doug Jones of New York moved into the No. 2 spot, behind Harold Johnson, recognized as champ by the National Boxing Assn.

Uclan Track Star Out Of Decathlon

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — C. K. Yang, UCLA's track star from Nationalist China, won't be competing in the national decathlon meet this weekend at Albuquerque, N.M., according to his coach.

Coach Ducky Drake said a leg injury suffered during the regular season has curtained Yang's activity. He said the injury is healing, but Yang has not had a chance to keep at a competitive peak.

Yang was second behind Rafer Johnson in the Olympics last summer in Rome and is regarded as the No. 1 decathlon star since Johnson's retirement.

Branch Rickey Condition 'Satisfactory'

SUDBURY, Ont. (UPI)—Branch Rickey expressed more concern today about the plight of the Pittsburgh Pirates than about his second heart attack in three years.

The 79-year-old Rickey, founder of baseball's farm system and one-time president of the Pirates, was in "satisfactory" condition at Sudbury Memorial Hospital following a "severe attack" at his Canadian fishing camp yesterday.

"He's a sick man, the poor guy," said Dr. J. A. Henry, "but he's still up to taking ribs about the Pirates."

Rickey was rushed here by plane from his camp at Little Current on Manitoulin Island, 95 miles away. He refused to leave the camp, however, without his transistor radio.

"He wanted to be sure to hear how the Pirates made out," said Rusty Blakey, the pilot of the plane, who added that Rickey talked continually about baseball as he was being prepared for the flight.

PIRATES LOSE

The Pirates dropped a 9-5 decision to the Los Angeles Dodgers last night for their fourth defeat in their last five games.

Mrs. Rickey, who has been ailing since her son, Branch Jr., died last May, arrived here last night from Pittsburgh with her daughter, Mrs. Robert Jones of Elmira, N.Y., Kenneth Blackburn, Rickey's private secretary, and Dr. Joseph Feingold, the Pittsburgh club physician.

Rickey, who was hospitalized for several weeks in 1958 following a seizure at his home in Fox Chapel, Pa., spent a restful night last night and Dr. John Sturtridge said he was in "no immediate danger."

Rickey's last official connection with baseball was as president of the Continental League, which had hoped to establish itself as the third major league, but finally disbanded after getting the current major leagues to expand.

IT'S THE BAT

Musial Bares Secret Of Home Run Output

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—The secret of the modern home run hitters is out at last—it's the bat and not the ball that's responsible for the ever-increasing productivity of major league sluggers.

The authority for this news is no less an expert than Stan Musial, the National League's greatest hitter since Rogers Hornsby and a seven-time batting champion. Now 40 and nearing the end of his record-filled career, Musial gave his views on the evolution in the art of hitting during the last 20 years and in customary Musial fashion his opinions made sense.

"Of course the ball is lively," said Musial. "But the big change in the game during my career has been in the bats, not the ball."

According to Musial, a whole new concept of long-ball hitting is behind the change—a change which has produced a new crop of .250 and .260 home run hitters. Foremost among these this season is the Yankee's Roger Maris who is hitting home runs at the record Ruthian pace despite an average in the .250's.

Other examples of high homer-hitting but low average wallopers are Rocky Colavito of the Detroit Tigers (19 homers and a .273 average), Bob Allison of the Minnesota Twins (12 and .241), Willie McCovey of the San Francisco Giants (11 and .249) and numerous others.

"When I broke in it was fashionable for the home run hitters to swing thick, heavy bats weighing 38 to 40 ounces and in some instances all the way up to 44 or even 48 ounces," explained Musial. "Then the idea developed that the speed of the bat at the moment of contact with the ball was the key to long distance hitting and the result was the production of the new light, tapered bats with skinny handles and most of the wood at the upper end.

"These bats have terrific driving power," Musial continued. "A ball that is hit with the thick upper end takes off like a skyrocket. On the other hand, the modern hitter who hits a ball down near the end of the handle can't hope to get enough wood on it to push it over or past an infielder.

"Thus," concluded Musial, "you have hitters who hit terrific drives when they connect solidly but don't have enough wood all along the bat to punch out shorter hits when they don't connect with the thickest part of the bat."

Musial pointed out that this also is the reason for the remarkable success pitchers have with the "slider." The "slider" is scoffed at by some experts as a "nickel curve" because it doesn't have the full break of the standard curve.

"The slider is perfectly suited for the modern pitcher because it breaks sharply, although not too far," said Musial. "In other words, it breaks just enough so that the hitter can't get the heavy end of the bat on it and consequently taps out weak grounders or easy infield pops when he connects with the slender wood nearer the handle."

Musial, who doesn't want to get into any arguments over whether modern players are better or worse than the fabled old-timers, restricted his comparisons only to the period during which he played.

"The improvement in equipment has been the major reason for change during my career," he said. "You also can see it in the gloves the infielders and outfielders have. They are simply able to catch balls now that players of 20 years ago couldn't catch. I sometimes see three or four outstanding plays in one game that I wouldn't have seen in a week when I broke in."

Musial didn't say so but the changes haven't had any adverse effect on his own hitting ability when, of course, his advancing years and weakening reflexes are taken into account.

As of yesterday The Man has hit nine homers, driven in 34 runs and sports a .311 batting average, which is pretty nifty for a 40-year-old even if he can't ride a horse like Eddie Arcaro.

Osservatore To Celebrate 100th Year

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — The veteran Vatican newspaper Osservatore Romano will celebrate it hundreth anniversary July 1.

The paper was founded in 1861 by a group of private citizens without any initial intention as a religious organ.

Director of the Osservatore Romano, Raimondo Manzini, said today that the paper has been transformed into an affirmation of the staunch principles of the rights of man after the Catholic faith.

Another objective of the Holy See's voice in print, said Manzini, was the defense of the Catholic religion against all dangers.

"This objective and this defense of supreme moral values" he said, "have been maintained by the Osservatore throughout its long existence."

Manzini paid tribute to the work of the former pontiffs and Pope John XXIII for their endeavors and successes in helping the under-privileged and enhancing the prestige of the church.

Popes past and present have also contributed unceasingly to the cause of peace, said Manzini.

The director of the paper expressed special thanks to Pope John for his keen interest in the work and role of the Osservatore since his assumption to the Papal throne.

A special 60-page commemorative number is being prepared to mark the July 1 anniversary. On this day the Pope will personally receive the staff of the Osservatore in audience here at which foreign correspondents are also invited.

A special set of postage stamps will be issued.

OFFICERS RECRUITED

There's Room For More Navy Brass

The Navy says that its reserve officer training program allows 160 appointments to the Naval Academy a year—but for the past six years it has been short of its quota.

Naval officials at Hunter's Point in San Francisco say it's because of the "lack of information to eligible candidates."

The Navy explained that the appointments through the Naval Reserve officer training program are exactly equal in value to the appointments made by senators and congressmen."

Appointments from the Reserve provide a completely free, four-year college education, fulfillment of all military obligations, and a degree of bachelor of science.

Dennis Henderson of 440 Manzanita Avenue and Steve Curd of 148 Stetson Avenue, Corte Madera, are members of the Submarine Reserve Unit 1231, Hunter's Point. Both are 17 and seniors at Redwood High School. The Navy says both will be eligible for the officer training courses in the Reserve.

Candidates for the Annapolis program through the Naval Reserve must be between 16 and 21 when they enter the reserve in order to enter the academy at the required ages of 17 and 22. They must join the Reserve before July 1 of the year prior to planned entry into the academy. They must also meet the physical and mental requirements of the Congressional appointments.

There is still time for making applications for the 1962 Academy Class, says the Navy, and the July 1 date may be extended to July 15 "Under special circumstances."

Interested persons may contact Navy Lt. J. R. Rodgers, U.S. Naval Shipyard, Hunter's Point.

Bail Bondsman In Assault Case

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Bail bondsman Clyde W. Childers, 44, who locked a 200-pound bailjumper in his car trunk to avoid "taking any chances," was convicted yesterday of assault with force.

But he was acquitted on a charge of false imprisonment by Superior Judge Frederick W. Mahl Jr., who ordered Childers to return for a probation hearing and sentencing Aug. 8. Childers of Syracuse, Ind., was permitted to remain at liberty on $15,000 bail.

The slightly built Childers said he had been looking for Kenneth W. Beasley, who was wanted on a misdemeanor check charge, for more than a year.

Rocket Rides Are Coming Thing

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

A rocket ride over the Atlantic, a U-2 plan over the Arctic and a coming rocket ride for men around the globe are topics for science at work.

Within a month another U.S. astronaut may ride a rocket some 300 miles over the Atlantic—but this time he will have a first-hand report of what to expect.

During the rocket's powered climb, the astronaut feels the gravity forces build slowly until his body weighs six times as much as it does at rest. Then comes weightlessness for 4¾ minutes when he weighs nothing at all.

Then as the rocket plunges downward and is slowed suddenly by the earth's blanket of air, the astronaut again feels a sudden gravity build-up, and for seconds his body weighs up to 11 times its normal weight.

A high-flying U-2 airplane swept through the arctic sky last November on a strange mission: collecting dust.

It brought back what scientists believe may be the tiniest of meteorites ever collected — in a sense the dustiest of dust.

Scientists say the microscopic particles are 1,000 times smaller than the expected size of micrometeorites. They might be a product of fragmented larger meteorites—or, as scientists believe, they may have originated as moon dust.

When the first U.S. astronaut orbits the earth—perhaps this year—he will use a group of small rockets to slow his speed so that his capsule can begin its downward trip.

If the space capsule's speed in orbit is some 17,500 miles an hour it will have to slow down only some 350 miles an hour to fall out of orbit and down toward the earth.

How big is the head of a pin? Well, under one powerful microscope, the surface of a pinhead can be magnified so large the whole surface would cover some 250 miles. A simple magnifying glass will magnify it only some three times.

Microscopes and their history will be part of an exhibit at the 1962 Seattle World's Fair, the Century 21 Exposition. The most powerful microscope described in the exhibit will be the ion emission microscope which can identify and enlarge for study a particle the size of only nine atoms.

Some new chemicals used to combat insects and control plant growth are dangerous to wildlife and even domestic animals, scientists report.

Within a week after some of the chemicals are applied, three-fourths of the animal deaths occur, a report said. Oil base sprays which coat vegetation are more dangerous to wildlife feeding on the vegetation than are other means of chemical application such as the spreading of granules.

Scientists are going to test some of the schemes to tame tropical storms before the storms have a chance to reach inland areas.

Portuguese arrived in Angola in 1482 and for centuries regarded the African land only as the reservoir of a profitable export—slaves.

Expansion Of Store Depends On Paint

The red, white and blue Yankee Trader furniture store in Novato may be enlarged — if the entire store is painted some other color, Novato planning commissioners have agreed.

The store was painted in its large checkered pattern when, under county control, store owners and county planners disagreed on the size and types of signs to be allowed on the large building just south of Hamilton Air Force Base on Highway 101.

The store, now in the city of Novato since incorporation, may add 590 square feet on its west side, as requested by Dorothy H. Savin, commissioners said. But store owners and the planning staff must agree on a quieter paint job for the building.

Fresh Peach Dessert Is Served Hot

Quick, pretty and delicious, fresh peach-macaroon casserole serves six for dessert. Baked in the oven with a macaroon filling, this dessert is best while still warm. Serve with plenty of good cream to pour over, or top with scoops of vanilla ice cream.

3 large fresh peaches
12 coconut macaroons, crumbled
¼ tsp. nutmeg
2 tbsp. butter or margarine

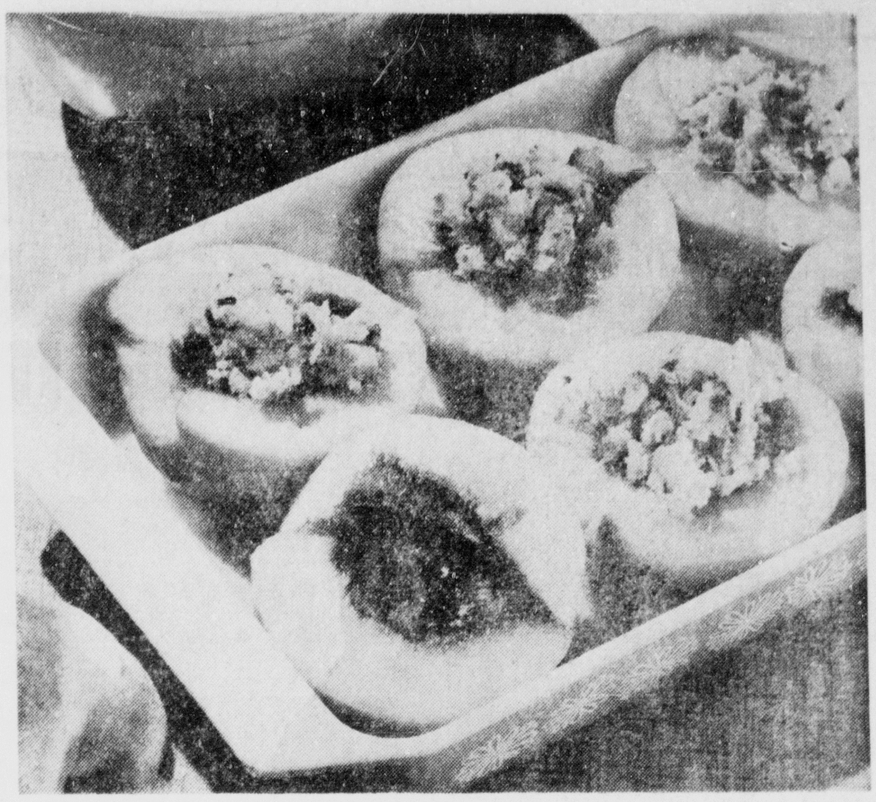
Wash and halve peaches. Arrange cut side up in casserole. Mix crumbled macaroons and nutmeg. Fill cavities of peach halves. Dot with butter or margarine. Cover and bake at 350° for 25 minutes. Serve warm with cream.

An Appetizer

Stuffed egg halves make a delicious appetizer. Serve them on finely shredded green cabbage mixed with French dressing. Garnish with capers, pimiento and anchovy fillets.

Use Raw Mushrooms

Some epicures like to add raw mushrooms to a green salad. If the mushrooms are very small, add them whole. Medium-size mushrooms can be sliced thin and used.



PEACHY DESSERT for company can be made casserole style in the oven and served warm to win compliments for the cook. The macaroon filling lends a special crispy texture.

Sea Food Ideas

Canned shrimp and crab meat combine well in a salad; or add the two seafoods to a well-season cream sauce and serve over cooked rice or in pattie shells.

Good Cracker Spread

Good spread for crackers: Put cooked smoked tongue through the fine blade of a food chopper along with sharp cheddar cheese. Mix in mayonnaise and pickle relish to taste.

Fancy Soup

Next time you serve clear chicken soup, wilt some watercress sprigs in it as you heat. Add sliced water chestnuts, too, if you are offering this to company.

HOW THEY DO IT

Amateur Actors Stage Dinner For Fair Multitude, Can You?

Independent-Journal
SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY
FOOD PAGE
Wed., June 28, 1961 15

Talk about mass feeding. Only the army can match the quantities a group of amateur actors and amateur cooks of the Ross Valley Players handle i ntheir "restaurant Francais" at the Marin Art and Garden Fair in Ross.

Chairmen of the largest food concession at the fair are Jerry Mathis, of San Rafael, an entomologist with the Marin county mosquito abatement district, and Mrs. Mathis, who usually does her cooking on a much smaller scale.

Using as a gauge the 34,000 attendance at last year's fair, the Mathises start making lists. They like to order enough because it is hard to find a place open on July 4 should items run out.

The Players have learned by experience over the years how to run a successful snack bar, and the Mathises benefit from the experience of previous chairmen.

How would you like to order 6,500 hamburger patties? The members sell an average of one hamburger every 25 seconds and during a rush period can serve a hamburger every 5-7 seconds.

Three thousand chicken halves are ordered and here is the recipe that keeps the chickens ready and hot ahead of the line of hungry guests:

FAIR'S CHICKEN

Dip in salt water, then in a special flour. Using lard shortening, fry in electric fryer 15 minutes, or in gas fryer 18 minutes at 350 degrees. Place in infra red warmer. Try not to have more than one hour's supply ahead.

What about the tossed green salad to go with the chicken dinner?

The Mathises start with a large dishpan, two or three "salad girls", to clean and tear the lettuce, 96 heads of iceberg or head lettuce, 24 heads of romaine, 24 heads of escarole, four cases of tomatoes and 25 bunches of fresh onions. The dishpan is filled three or four times a day with lettuce.

A half-ton of potato salad is ordered plus the following, according to Mathis, 6,500 hamburger buns, 600 pies, 24,000 snack plates, 12,000 hot cups, and about "75 other items such as cream pitchers, ice cream scoops, salt-and-peppers, and napkins."

FAMILIES TOO

It takes about 250 workers to operate this fair-feeding concession and that means all the members of the players group and their families. One executive member is in charge of each day and it is up to him to get his cooks, servers, and cleanup crews.

The amateurs serve a professional menu including a dinner of half fried chicken, baked beans (a server must learn to put only five ounces of beans on a plate), some of the tossed salad, roll and butter, pie and coffee, tea or milk; or snacks.

One sees many a well-known businessman or beautiful wife cheerfully "standing over a hot stove" cooking chickens or hamburgers who doesn't know how to boil an egg in the kitchen at home.

July 4 Cookout Demands Burgers Or Special Dogs

A colorful charcoal cookout and the 4th of July go together. Often it's a weekend for family reunions. How to feed a crowd? Set out grill and charcoal on the lawn under a blue sky. Deck the serving table with a red, white and blue color scheme. Serve red-white-and-blue burgers or Yankee Doodle hot dogs.

A wood picnic table serves a crowd. Or you can improvise with card tables set up as serving area. A heavy white paper tablecloth is the first decorative touch. To prevent blowing, secure it to the table legs with big red ribbon bows, use cellophane tape, or thumb-tack it down.

Dessert can be a big watermelon at center of table or big bowl of red apples at either end. Set out white paper plates, blue or pink paper napkins, flatware, and a sparkler with a name tag at each plate.

DRESS UP

In honor of the occasion hamburgers come in dress-up costume. Hamburger goes red, white and blue with delicious results. Fill ground beef patties with crumbled blue cheese, grill them over charcoal, and top with sour cream and scarlet pimiento strips during the last few minutes of broiling. Serve with bowls of potato salad and sliced beefsteak tomatoes.

The Yankee Doodle dogs are as simple. Slit frankfurters. Fill with chopped onions, grated American cheese and a tablespoonful of barbecue sauce. Grill over the coals and serve with charcoal-toasted buns and baked beans. A piping-hot beanpot can sit at side of the cooking rack for handy refills. Add a big green salad.

HAM STEAK

Or you may prefer another red, white and blue meal both practical and delicious. A charcoal grilled center cut ham steak is your main dish. Plan a salad—call it macaroni — to be a feather in your cap. Use two parts cooked and drained elbow macaroni to one part finely chopped celery and green pepper, mix with mayonnaise, top with crumbled hard boiled egg yolk and chopped fresh dill and sprinkle with paprika. Serve in a generous bowl, or individually on fresh lettuce leaves. Delectable dessert with this meal is blueberry pie.

If you've planned the outdoor feast to end at sundown, the embers in your grill are just right for toasting marshmallows or lighting sparklers. And with few dishes to wash, even the hostess celebrates liberty.

Lamb Kebabs Put New Flavoring On The Barbecue

Lamb Kebabs, marinated in burgundy, have a flavor and tenderness new to your family and friends. Serve them in style at the dining room table or sizzling from their skewers at a barbecue. A green salad and garlic-buttered French bread will complete the feast.

The wine vaporizes at a low temperature and leaves only the blend of flavors.

LAMB KEBABS
(Makes 4 servings)

2 Tbs olive or salad oil
⅓ cup burgundy
½ tsps tarragon
1 tsps salt
¼ tsps pepper
½ tsps oregano

Combine oil, wine, tarragon, salt, pepper and oregano; mix well. Add lamb and chill 3 hours, turning lamb occasionally. Remove lamb and reserve wine mixture. Arrange lamb on 4 skewers and brush with wine mixture. Broil 4-5 inches from source of heat 5-7 minutes. Turn lamb and brush with remaining wine mixture. Broil 5-7 minutes, or until lamb is desired degree of doneness.

JOSEPH V. ARATA
Banker For 40 Years

40 Years With B. Of A. Today For Marinite

Joseph V. Arata, 115 Altura Way, Greenbrae, observes his 40th anniversary with Bank of American today.

Arata, manager and vice president of the bank's Columbus branch in North Beach, San Francisco, joined the banking organization in 1921. He was assigned to the Columbus branch six years later and has served as an officer there for more than half of his banking career.

Arata was promoted to assistant cashier in 1930, assistant manager in 1944, manager of a branch office at 29th and Mission streets, San Francisco in 1945; and his present post in 1954.

Arata is treasurer of the San Francisco chapter of Boys Towns of Italy, Inc., director of the Archdiocesan council of the St. Vincent de Paul Society in San Francisco; and a member of the Italian-American Chamber of Commerce, Knights of Columbus, Native Sons of the Golden West and the San Francisco Athletic Club.

Lowest Polio Rate In Years Continuing

SACRAMENTO (AP)— California's 1961 paralytic polio rate continues to be the lowest in recent years, the State Public Health Department has reported.

A total of 33 cases, two fatal, were reported through June 10. There were 71 cases in the same period last year and 76 in 1959.

The department said it's too early to make a definite forecast for the polio season, but that the outlook is favorable in view of low incidence of the disease in both the state and nation thus far.

Only three, or one in 11 of the California victims, had received the full four-shot vaccination against polio.

Of the remainder, 21, or 64 per cent, had not received any immunization.

New Traffic Record For Gate Bridge

Sunday traffic over Golden Gate Bridge broke all previous records.

There were 75,487 crossings of all types, the heaviest in the span's history, reported officials. They said it was due to good weather and vacation season.

Economy Has Been Big Question For The First Half Of Year

NEW YORK (AP)—For most Americans the first half of 1961 has been like a daytime TV serial. They have gone from uncertainty to uncertainty, each episode ending in a question affecting their jobs, incomes, cost of living.

First it was: What will the new president really do? How long will the recession last? Will taxes be cut or raised? Who can steer us to a miracle stock that will go up and up and up?

Now it is: Can the jobless problem really be licked? Will new machines take over more jobs? Does the recovery mean a new boom's coming? Can our pay rise without bringing another jump in the cost of living? Will the government broaden its control over our private lives?

The year started with industry contracting and unemployment spreading. It brought a new administration to Washington amid considerable confusion as to what could or would be done about the recession's problems.

Some emergency measures brought more cash into the pockets of the unemployed. But Washington is still talking about how to find work for the unskilled, for the young and inexperienced, for the older workers whose skills have been replaced by machines.

Those who were employed went on naking about as much—while work weeks of some contracted, wage scales of others rose.

Consumers went on spending about as much—the total outlay rising as the population increased. Spending was more on a hand-to-mouth basis than on more long term commitments.

Talk in Washington about stimulating economic growth led many in the stock market and in business to think a boom, real or artificial, would come along, and in its train might come inflation. The stock market generated as many questions as it answered. Now the market is a real cliff hanger.

By March people were asking, how soon will the business recovery get going and how fast? By May the optimists were saying the upturn was faster than had been expected.

In June the pessimists are pointing to the slowness of the rise in retail sales, to the hesitancy to take on more instalment credit and the rise in savings instead, to the fairly sluggish seasonal increase in home building, to the cautious approach of business to spending for new plants and equipment.

OAKLAND (AP)—Henry J. Kaiser Jr. left an estate estimated at 48 million dollars, most of it in trust funds, the industrialist's attorney told the court yesterday.

The estimates were made by Paul S. Marrin in seeking a $5,000 monthly allowance from current cash assets of the estate for the estate for the widow, Barbara Elsie Kaiser. Superior Court Judge A. J. Woolsey granted the request.

Marrin said Mrs. Kaiser also had a net annual income of $82,000 from one of a series of trusts Kaiser established in 1949.

The attorney said that in the four years before his death May 2, Kaiser had a net income, after taxes, of $214,765 a year. In the first fourth months this year he netted $82,218.

Marrin said the probatable portion of Kaiser's estate would exceed 1.5 million dollars. This was willed to the widow. The balance is in the Henry J. Kaiser Family Foundation and trust funds for his wife, their 8-year-old son Henry J. Kaiser III, and two daughters by a previous marriage—Mary Lou and Janie Lee Kaiser of Atherton, Calif.

Westerners Suffer More From Asthma

SACRAMENTO, (UPI)—More people in the West suffer from asthma and hay fever than any other affliction, the U. S. Public Health Service announced. Arthritis and rheumatism afflict nearly as many, 66 out of every thousand, in the three Pacific Coast states. Heart conditions affect 32 out of every thousand persons.

What Alcatraz Looks Like From The Inside

By CLYDE G. BARTEL

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)— "This," said the warden of Alcatraz prison, "is the handiwork of some of our inmates."

But Madigan conceded some prisoners produce other things during off-hours — such as a forbidden knife that might show up in the daily cell search.

"We've found none lately," he added.

Alcatraz, meaning pelican, the ungainly bird that nested on the island when Spain ruled California, nests 251 convicts —one to a 5½x9 foot cell. The three-tiered cellblock in the huge buff-colored building atop the island can hold 336.

Discipline is rigid under the eyes of 101 custodial officers, part of the 170 government employees who with their families live on the island, 1.1 miles from the San Francisco shoreline.

Madigan said the prison rule is "fairness but no pampering."

For men who step out of line or refuse to work, there is D Block, intended to soften the hardboiled.

A serious infraction can land a man in a closed-door cell in D Block. This means a mattress and blankets on the floor nights, one electric light, and the solid steel door always closed except for feeding and other necessity. The cell has a toilet and wash basin.

Twelve days here is generally the maximum, but it can be longer, Madigan said. The punishment is determined by a hearing board headed by Associate Warden Olin D. Blackwell.

Bread and water diet in the closed door cells has been abolished, the recalcitrant getting a reduced 2,100 calorie daily feeding with no frilly foods.

Bread and water doesn't encourage penitence, Madigan explained.

Lesser infractions can put an inmate in D Block's open door cells. These are much like the regular cells with lights, bed, toilet and wash basin.

Here, the diet is the regular 3,900 calorie fare, but privileges are reduced, such as no radio or movies and only limited exercise in the yard.

Tenancy in the open-door punishment cells can be up to three or four years, Madigan said.

Alcatraz gets the long-termers and trouble makers among federal felons. Among these have been the late Al Capone and Basil (The Owl) Banghart, trigger man for the prohibition-era Roger Touhy gang.

"Out of 1,505 who have been sent here since Alcatraz became a maximum security prison in 1934, only 35 have returned under sentence," he said.

With the reminder of the 1937 escape of two prisoners who tackled the Bay's rough, cold and swiftly ebbtide water never to be seen again, and an unsuccessful blastout try in 1946 taking the lives of two officers and three insurgent felons, tight security measures start at the prison gate.

Entry is gained only after the electronic scanner—a doorway-like frame — assures Lt. Lloyd Miller that the visitor has no metal on him.

It takes only the tinfoil wrapping on a cigaret package to make the scanner sound warning beeps.

Work is the rule of the prison from the time the men arise at 6:30 a.m. until lights out at 9:30 p.m. There is recreation too—softball and other games in the yard and weekend movies.

The prison library has 15,000 volumes and the turnover is about 80 books per man each year, Madigan said.

"About 20 are taking correspondence courses ranging from physics to lower grade studies, and one man just completed a correspondence law course," he said.

Although lights are out at 9:30 p.m., the radio master switch isn't turned off until the last play of night baseball games. There is no TV.

The prisoners are allowed no newspapers, but many subscribe to magazines. Mostly they choose news and sports publications.

Newspapers are forbidden because of the possibility of code messages aimed for the prisoners through personal columns, the warden said.

Inmates are allowed to send out two letters per week and receive one a day, but they are censored both ways.

Prison work brings the men pay from 12 to 30 cents an hour, depending on skill and output. Industrial work includes labor in the laundry, or making sweep-brushes, gloves and work garments for federal agencies.

The money isn't paid them until release, but there is other and perhaps more precious compensation for labor. The men can build up from two to five days a month good time toward reduction of sentences, depending upon the length of the term. This is in addition to statutory good time allowances for prison behavior.

After five years a well-behaved prisoner can earn up to a total of 15 days per month good time.

Other privileges include one visitor per month for one and one-half hours.

The prison furnishes three packs of cigarets per week. Tobaccos for roll-your-own cigarettes and pipes, always is available in the cell block.

The officers are commanded by Capt. Thomas D. Bradley. William C. Bones, business manager, directs fiscal operations of the prison which spends about one million dollars a year. Arthur Dollisin is superintendent of the prison industries.

No fresh water is available on the island, so an army barge brings 270,000 gallons two or three times a week to fill storage tanks.

Gene Jones, chief steward, said his food budget is about $60,000 a year. That is 62 cents a day per man to meet standards set up by the National Board of Nutrition.

The 3,900-calorie diet calls for one-half pound of meat per man daily, three-quarters of a pound of potatoes, milk, eggs, vegetables and desserts.

The prisoners eat cafeteria style and have their choice of dry or hot cereals for breakfast, fresh fruit twice a week in season, canned or dried fruits three times a week.

The prison hospital area, under J. W. Casey, chief technical assistant, has an operating room, X-ray room, dental section and 15 beds.

There are now six men in the wards, two of them ulcer patients.

The U.S. Public Health Service sends a dentist to the island once a week and a physician comes daily from the San Francisco Marine Hospital.

Madigan doesn't go so far as to claim his charges are one big happy family.

"But morale has been very good lately," he said.

Kentfield School Teacher Retiring

Miss Catherine Palmer turned in her resignation to the Kentfield School District Board of Trustees Monday. She is retiring on July 1.

Miss Palmer has been a teacher in Marin County for the past 44 years. She has been with the Kentfield District since 1922. For 27 of those 39 years she was the teaching principal at the A. E. Kent School. She taught George Renworth, who is now the principal of the same school.

From 1949 to 1954 she was remedial reading instructor for the confederated districts of Kentfield, San Anselmo and Fairfax. She has been a teaching librarian since that time.

Planners Meeting In San Rafael

A second public hearing on a request to rezone two parcels of land off Lincoln Avenue heads the agenda for tonight's meeting of the San Rafael Planning Commission.

The commission will meet at 7:30 p.m. in Classroom 3 of the E Street School, rather than in the city hall.

R. E. Nolan has asked that his six lots near Fair Drive and Lincoln Avenue be rezoned from single family residential to transient residential, which allows motels, hotels and boarding houses.

In the same area Constance Schwarzer of Sonoma has asked that her four lots be rezoned from single family residential and transient residential to restricted commercial.

Naval Color Guard

Midshipman James S. Ibach, son of Cmdr. and Mrs. Roy A. Ibach, 23 Mesa Avenue, Mill Valley, marched as a member of the 1961 Color Company in the June Week parade at the Naval Academy in Annapolis, Md. Selection for the color company is based on sports competition, academic proficiency and professional competence.

KTIM Panel To Discuss Hub's Downtown Area

The proposed re-development of San Anselmo's downtown area will be discussed tomorrow at 9 a.m. on the KTIM Sounding Board, announced Kitty Oppenheimer, moderator.

Program guests will be San Anselmo City Manager Douglas Flautt and J. E. Van Zandt, vice president of the Milbrae firm making an economic survey of the plan. Other guests will be Mozart Kaufman, business man and member of the city's chamber of commerce civic committee, and Russell Spatz, chairman of the San Anselmo Planning Commission.

Panel members may be questioned by telephone during the broadcast Thursday, said Kitty Oppenheimer. The program will be tape-recorded and rebroadcast Sunday at 12:30 p.m.

Veterans Warned About Unentitled Checks Received

"Don't cash it. Don't spend it," W. P. (Doc) Duhamel warns veterans, dependents or survivors receiving pension or compensation checks to which they know they are not entitled.

"Sooner or later repayment would be necessary," Duhamel pointed out in asking check recipients with problems to contact him at his office, 519 Fourth Street, San Rafael, for assistance in matters of federal and state veterans benefits. Duhamel is veterans service officer for the county.

Duhamel warned that a pensioner who does not give notice that his actual or anticipated income will be above the limit qualification will be obliged to repay the full year's payments. "Such repayment is not asked when prompt notice of excess income has been made," he said.

E. Germany's Drab Economic Outlook

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI)—East Germany's proud boast that it would overtake West Germany's consumption in every-day goods was proved a lie by the report of a Communist trade official who recently fled to the West.

The report on the drab picture of East Germany's supply of consumer goods was published by the private fact-finding organization Information Bureau West (IWE) in Berlin. The former Communist trade functionary, whose name was withheld, gave a detailed description of the shortcomings in East Germany.

The former leader of the district trade organization of Wolgast, a town on the Baltic Sea coast, revealed a clear picture of the sad state of supply of basic foodstuffs.

According to planned figures, the Wolgast district was entitled to 28 tons of butter a month, the functionary said, but in January the district received only 18 tons, in February 18.6 tons and in March 19.2 tons. For political reasons the state-run retail shops were forbidden to ration the butter.

During the first three months of 1961 the supply of meat was just as bad, the report said. Of the 260 tons of meat, provided for in the plan, only 180 tons had been delivered by March 20.

The choice of vegetables offered to East Germans, according to the IWE report, was limited to cabbage and occasionally to cauliflower and carrots. Despite extensive trade between East Germany and African states, no oranges or bananas were available. Canned vegetables on sale consisted only of prunes, peas and apples.

The customers practically fought battles for what little textiles and shoes were available, the functionary reported. The public demand was set by 60 per cent for adults, while children-size clothes and shoes were only available at a rate of 40 per cent. Only 50 per cent of last year's promised supplies of woolen underwear were on the market, the trade official said.

Delivery of household china, one of the main export products of East Germany, was rationed to $30,000 worth of goods in 1961. The trade official said the supply was enough to cover the needs of one shop only, while a total of 14 shops in Wolgast had to share the supplies.

According to the report, the amount of furniture in Wolgast was cut by $100,000 for 1961.

Soap flakes were expected to be available only at a rate of 25 per cent of public demand, while liquid soap would not be for sale at all. A recent import ban on foreign perfume essences halted the production of three luxury soap brands.

The lack of detergents was further sharpened by the lack of packing material. Production of cardboard and plastic containers fell tremendously short of planned figures, IWE reported. A recently opened plant for the production of plastic boxes in Schwerin delivered only 146 boxes instead of the planned 3,000 pieces a month.

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Appearing in city court on a charge of speeding and having an improper muffler, an 18-year-old boy told Judge F. H. Parham he was in a hurry to reach the county attorney's office. He explained he was due there to discuss a reckless driving charge.

JAMES ROOSEVELT
To Speak In Marin

Rep. Roosevelt Will Speak At ACLU Meeting

Rep. James Roosevelt (D-Los Angeles) will be guest speaker at the Marin County chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union potluck Sunday evening, July 9, at the Roger Kent estate in Kent Woodlands.

The evening's program also includes showing of a film which the group believes is the answer to the House Un-American Activities Committee film of the San Francisco city hall riots of May, 1960.

Milen Dempster, chapter chairman, describes the new film as "Operation Correction." He says it exposes the false misrepresentations of the riot film.

The evening will start with a cocktail hour beginning at 5:30 p. m. The speakers and film program starts at 8 p. m.

Dempster extended an invitation to the public. But he pointed out admission-donations will be collected. He also said, "Those attending for the potluck should bring a casserole sufficient for twice the number in their parties."

Shop Center Is Approved For Novato

Development plans for the Novato Fair Center (Safeway Center) in Novato were approved Monday by the city planning commisioners.

The first unit to go up at the center will be the food store, developers have promised. The center at Diablo Avenue, Novato Boulevard and Highway 101 also is planned to contain various shops and service centers but final arrangements have not been completed.

Planning commisioners approved development plans with the understanding that with construction of any units additional to the food store, developers must construct a two-lane bridge over Novato Creek to Novato Boulevard to ease traffic flow from the center.

Commissioners also left open the door for future widening of the bridge to four lanes, if traffic necessitates it.

Hearing dates for consideration of plans of the Cross Road Shopping Center, Highway 101 and South Novato Boulevard, were set for July 10 and July 24.

Brown Signs Several Measures Into Law

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown's office has announced the governor had signed a series of bills passed by the 1961 legislature.

The bills will:

Increase by 10 per cent the maximum family income allowable to retain eligibility for admitting children to child care centers.

Coordinate state program of extended unemployment compensation benefits with federal program, assuring nearly 1,500 California claimants will get about as much in benefits from combined state-federal program as if there had been no federal program.

Permit construction of a city-county expressway system in Santa Clara County authorized by a 70-million-dollar bond issue approved by the voters.

Provide two cents an hour increase per child in statewide average support for child care centers and one cent an hour increase in fees charged parents.

Correct an error in a bond election in a school district in Riverside and San Bernardino counties to allow the district to receive an additional $16,000 in state funds.

Authorize sale of Highway Patrol's former office building in Visalia to the city of Visalia for $22,500.

Authorize Stockton Port District to issue bonds to develop revenue producing harbor improvements.

Allow the Metropolitan Water District of Los Angeles to fix rates that vary according to source of water.

'Marin This Month' Branching Out Into A Bay Area Magazine

News stands tomorrow will feature what seems to be a new magazine called "San Francisco Town and Country" but actually it's a new face for what was previously "Marin This Month"—published in Sausalito by Waterfront Publishers, Inc.

The publication which had its first issue presented to the public in October, 1958, as Marin This Week and was changed to a monthly in April, 1959, has now increased circulation outside of Marin to a point where its logical future seems to be in a wider field.

Says editor Margaret Holstrom: "We arrived at the stage where we had to decide whether to keep the magazine strictly local or grow with the demand for something on the entire area. Readers throughout the country have an avid interest in the San Francisco Bay Area.

"We do not intend to give up writing about Marin County but in enlarging our scope to include neighboring territory we believe the increased readership will give the county still greater publicity. Our July issue has more pages than before and we intend to increase the size of the magazine to a 9 by 12-inch format very soon."

San Francisco Town and Country now maintains a publisher's representative in New York City.

LOCAL SPORTS CAR clubs, dealers and organizations that are interested can acquire color films with sound on races, rallies and other automotive activities from Rootes Motors, Inc., 9830 West Pico Boulevard, Los Angeles 35. Free showings of some 17 films can be arranged.

ALLEN B. GOWER of Terra Linda, associated with Ward-Griffith Co. of San Francisco—national advertising representative firm for the I-J—has been elected treasurer of the San Francisco chapter of the American Assn. of Newspaper Representatives. His term of office is for one year.

EDWARD K. WACHSMAN of San Rafael, representative for Provident Mutual Life Insurance Co., is off this week on another annual get-together of the 1961 Million Dollar Round Table at Bal Harbour, Fla. . . . Jerry Fries of Carlson Moving and Storage, San Rafael, says that National Van Lines for which his company is the local agent has been able to give better service this year by reason of eliminating regional dispatchers in favor of one central dispatching office for the entire country at Broadview, Ill.

PUBLIC OPINION POLL:

Nixon Has Edge On Brown In '62 Race

By MERVIN D. FIELD
Director, The California Poll

If Richard Nixon decides to run for governor in 1962, incumbent Edmund G. Brown has an uphill fight to keep the former vice president from displacing him in Sacramento. And regardless of Nixon's decision, Brown faces a tough race with any of the leading Republicans now mentioned as possible candidates.

Whether Nixon will run for governor in 1962 is still an open question, at least officially. Nixon has said he will not be a candidate; however, his prominence in California Republican ranks inevitably places his name first among those discussed as possible opponents for Brown next year. A California Poll survey shows Nixon presently holds an impressive edge over Brown in voter preference and has slightly strengthened his position since the last Poll measurement in February.

These are the findings of the latest California Poll survey of voter opinion conducted during early June when experienced opinion reporters asked a cross-section of California adults to indicate how they would vote if the elections were being held now. Voters were asked:

"Which of these candidates (Brown or Nixon) would you probably vote for if the election were being held today?"

	Today	Feb. 1961
Nixon	53%	51%
Brown	37	40
Undecided	10	9

Three other California Republicans who have been mentioned as possible contenders for the governor's seat in 1962 could also give Brown a challenging contest. Former Gov. Goodwin Knight appears to be gaining voter strength and currently heads Brown by a narrow margin.

If election were held today, would vote for

	Today	Feb. 1961	July 1960
Knight	44%	41%	45%
Brown	37	40	38
Undecided	19	19	17

Although Brown won office by decisively defeating Sen. William F. Knowland in 1958, Knowland appears to have regained much of his popularity with California voters and today he and Brown are in a virtual standoff in voter popularity.

If election were held today, would vote for

	Today	Feb. 1961	July 1960
Knowland	41%	37%	31%
Brown	40	42	57
Undecided	19	21	12

Mayor George Christopher of San Francisco would also vie closely with Brown if the election were held today, though this contest leaves a large proportion of voters undecided. Statewide, Brown would poll 39 per cent of the vote, Christopher 37 per cent, with 24 per cent still to make up their minds.

Mrs. Mellon Given Crusade Position

To Lead Agency Participation For Entire Bay Area Campaign

MRS. THOMAS J. MELLON

Announcement of the appointment of Mrs. Thomas J. Mellon of Kent Woodlands to the United Bay Area Crusade Campaign Cabinet was made today at Crusade headquarters in San Francisco.

As a member of the Cabinet, Mrs. Mellon will serve as Agency Participation Chairman for the entire Bay Area campaign beginning Oct. 1. Her responsibilities will be to coordinate the campaign efforts of staff members and volunteers of the 263 Crusade agencies, including work of more than 3,000 agency board members.

Mrs. Mellon, who was cited in May as one of eight outstanding women in Marin by the American Assn. of University Women, Marin Branch, has been a long time leader in United Crusade and of its various agencies. At present she is chairman of the Bay Area Agency Participation Committee, member of the Executive Committee. Her past positions have been vice president and secretary of the Bay Area Crusade and two term president of the Marin County Crusade. In 1956, she was campaign chairman for Marin.

OVER THE YEARS

The distinguished Marinite has also been closely associated over the years with various Crusade Agencies as Camp Fire Girls, Girl Scouts, Catholic Social Service and the Marin Red Cross Chapter.

Along with the United Crusade, Mrs. Mellon has also been active with other causes. On June 1, she took office as new state president of the Catholic Conference of Social Work. She recently retired as chairman of the Archbishop's Committee for Catholic Charities (for 13 counties in the Archdiocese of San Francisco).

Other activities for Catholic causes include participation on the board of Nazareth House, home for the aging under construction in Terra Linda, and on the executive committee of Serra Center for Girls, San Jose home for neglected teenagers.

In 1960, the alumnae chapter of Delta Zeta Sorority named Mrs. Mellon as its "Woman of the Year." In Marin, she is a past president of the Mothers' Club of Marin Catholic High School and Director of the Ross Chapter of the Needlework Guild of America.

PERSONAL SIDE

On the personal side of the ledger, Mrs. Mellon is the wife of San Francisco-Marin civic leader Thomas J. Mellon, former president of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce and she is the mother of three children and three grandchildren. Thomas Mellon Jr., 18, attends the University of San Francisco, where he is the holder of a National Merit Award Scholarship from Marin Catholic and a younger son, Michael, 17, is an honor student and newly elected student body president at Marin Catholic. Her daughter is Mrs. John Shea of San Bruno.

A native of Kansas, Mrs. Mellon who received her degree in home economics from Kansas State University, is noted for her cooking and has often cooked and presided at the same United Crusade meeting in Marin.

Donald White Claims Bride At Sunday Rites In Sonoma

In a 2:30 o'clock double ring ceremony on Sunday in the Sonoma Methodist Church, Janet Elizabeth Peart of Sonoma became the bride of Donald Lee White of Corte Madera.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Luke Peart of Sonoma. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Byron D. White of Corte Madera.

The bride was graduated from Sonoma High School and attended Santa Rosa Junior College. She plans to continue her education at College of Marin. Mrs. F. W. Keena of Sacramento is her grandmother.

The bridegroom was graduated from South Pasadena-San Marino High School in South Pasadena and Cornell University where he was affiliated with Delta Chi Fraternity. He is employed with the Cal Research Division of Standard Oil of California in Richmond.

First Lady To Stage Dinner At Mt. Vernon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, breaking sharply with the stiff tradition of White House social affairs, will hold a state dinner next month on the lawn of historic Mt. Vernon.

The estate of the country's first president, for years a major tourist attraction, will be the scene of a state dinner July 11 for Pakistani President Mohammed Ayub Kahn.

Many of the approximately 100 guests to be invited to the lawn party will be ferried there aboard the presidential yacht Honey Fitz. The lawn overlooks the Potomac River.

Invitations to the Mt. Vernon dinner will be sent out in four or five days. The menu will be planned by social secretary Letitia Baldridge and the food will be prepared by the White House French chef.

The first lady, who drove to Mt. Vernon from her estate near Middleburg, Va., returned to Washington aboard the Honey Fitz. On the return trip, she discussed the lighting of the grounds and the entertainment to be provided for her guests.

It will be the first time President and Mrs. Kennedy have held a state dinner outside the White House.

Press Secretary Pierre Salinger, asked what would happen if it rained the night of the party, appeared confident that such a bleak prospect would never occur.

Cleaning Shoes?

The Leather Industries of America offers this tip for cleaning bone-colored leather purses and shoes. Simply wipe with a damp cloth which has been wrung from a mild detergent suds. If you want to add luster, apply a neutral wax polish. If you own bone-colored suede, remove soiled spots by rubbing gently with a fine sandpaper or paper emory board.

IT'S EASY! JUST NAME ANY ONE OF THESE THREE ARMOUR MEAT DISHES

These easy-to-prepare recipes by Armour's famous Marie Gifford are so good they almost name themselves. Why not cook up all three—and let the family join in the naming fun!

1. Bacon baked with cornbread—just bursting with robust flavor. Pan-fry 8 to 10 strips of Armour Star Bacon according to package directions. Pour off drippings and arrange strips evenly in bottom of a greased shallow baking dish. (Or you can use a skillet if it has an oven-proof handle.) Prepare contents of 1 package cornbread mix as directed on label, and spread over bacon. Bake in 400°F. oven for about 20 minutes, until cornbread is golden brown. Cut into wedges and serve, bacon side up, with butter and syrup if desired. Makes 4 to 5 servings.

2. Marinated ham slices—inspired idea for indoor or outdoor cooks. Combine juice from 1 (No. 1) can sliced pineapple with ¼ cup soy sauce, ¾ teaspoon ground ginger and ½ clove garlic. Pour over thick slices of Armour "Ham What Am" in a shallow dish. Refrigerate for 1 hour. Discard garlic. Broil ham slices on both sides until just heated through, allowing about 4 to 5 minutes total time. Heat pineapple slices on rack alongside ham during last few minutes of broiling time. Top ham with pineapple and serve with cooked sweet potatoes.

Armour's "Ham What Am" does you proud whenever you serve it. And there's no waste—it's boneless, shankless—and free of fat as they come!

3. Franks on a skewer—fun food that's fun to fix. Allow ½ pound of Armour Star Bacon to stand at room temperature for about 15 minutes for easy separation. Remove 1 pound of Armour Star Frankfurters from package and cut each frank in thirds. Place on skewers alternately with cross-cut dill pickle chunks and small potatoes (canned or pre-cooked), weaving strips of bacon over and under pieces of food as they are placed on the skewers. Broil about 4 inches from source of heat for 8 to 10 minutes, turning to brown evenly. Makes 4 to 6 kabobs.

Rules: Name all 3 dishes if you like! Enter as many times as you like! Just follow these simple rules:

1. Print the recipe name you submit—specifying which Armour Meat it is for (Bacon, Ham or Franks) on the entry blank in this ad. Extra entry blanks available at your store. Or you can submit your entry on a plain sheet of paper. While you may submit as many names for one or all three of the recipes as you like, you must use a separate entry blank or a separate sheet of plain paper for each recipe name.

2. With each entry, enclose the following: With your name for the Bacon Recipe, enclose the A.M.P. symbol from the package, or the package insert. BELLE BRIDE'S regal gown is artfully fashioned from a fine taffeta of Celanese acetate and silk and richly hand appliqued with Alencon lace. The fitted bateau neck bodice is slightly dipped at the back waist and caught with a flat self bow which is repeated on the below elbow sleeves. A bell-shaped skirt front is drawn into deep back folds radiating into a bouffant train that creates an overskirt effect.

Fall Brides Nice From All Views

All brides are beautiful — that is traditional. This fall's array of lovely gowns for the girl about to wed ensures that she will be pretty from all view points. Designed by leading manufacturers in lovely fabrics of Celanese contemporary fibers, fall bridal gowns are as beautiful from the back view as from the front—ascertaining that the bride will turn an attractive back to her friends and family as she takes her marriage vows.

There are many ways of achieving this back interest. Full skirts are folded back, pleated, draped, caught under bows, embellished with lace, pearls or embroidery. In almost every instance, they extend gracefully into an important train.

Consider Belle Bride's regal gown, artfully fashioned from a fine taffeta of Celanese acetate and silk and richly hand appliqued with Alencon lace. The fitted bateau neck bodice is slightly dipped at the back waist and caught with a flat bow which is repeated on the below elbow sleeves. A bell-shaped skirt front is drawn into deep back folds radiating into a bouffant train that creates an overskirt effect.

Back interest is emphasized beautifully in Bridal Creation's dull satin gown of Celanese acetate, the beauty fiber. Cut on princess lines, it bells out below the fitted waistline, with the trained skirt draped into a wide envelope fold under a gentle bow at the back. Appliques of re-embroidered Alencon lace decorate the skirt, bodice and the upper part of the buttoned wrist-length sleeves.

ROMANTIC

A romantic gown from Priscilla of Boston achieves back interest with a cleverly cut skirt, that falls into a deep train from between two envelope folds. Garlands of blush rosepoint Alencon lace embroidered with tiny seed pearls adorn the train, with trailing appliques on the skirt front, the scooped Empire bodice and scalloped sleeves.

Unpressed pleats give fullness the deeply-trained skirt of Bridal Couture's enchanting wedding gown. Vermicelli embroidery of seed pearls and crystals, completely encrusting the slightly elongated bateau bodice, ensures that this dress looks as pretty in front as in the back. Both the bride's dress and the bell-skirted attendant's gown are made from Skinner's Dull Lustre satin of Celanese acetate.

Many gowns for the bride's attendants also carry prettiness from front to back—as witness Emma Domb's short, flare-skirted taffeta dress woven of radiant Celanese Celeperm acetate, the lustrous fiber that seals in its exquisite colors for lasting beauty. Below-the-hip sash ties in a soft bow at the back and threads through panels to give a pannier effect.

FOR ATTENDANTS

Harry Keiser creates a dramatic back interest in his attendant's gown with a sweep of shimmering taffeta, woven of Celaperm acetate, caught up in a flange of deep back folds and held with a garland of self fabric roses.

Equally perfect for the attendant at a formal wedding, or for the bride who prefers to be married in an elegant afternoon gown is Perlberg's Originals' charming scoop necked long-sleeved dress, with its asymmetrical, wrapped skirt. The simplicity oft his design plays up the beauty of the rich brocade woven of Celanese acetate and rayon.

SIMPLE ELEGANCE is achieved by Bridal Couture in Skinner's deep lustre satin of Celanese acetate. A belled skirt of unpressed pleats falls into a graceful cathedral train from a slightly dropped torso. The fitted bodice with its bateau neckline is completely encrusted with Vermicelli embroidery of tiny seed pearls and crystals. The satin attendant's gown with its floor length bell skirt of unpressed pleats echoes the simple line of the bridal gown with flat bows on the elbow length sleeves and across the waistline.

Daughter Suddenly Turns A Monster, Mother Says

"I wish I could resign," a mother writes, "and let someone else raise my daughter. She is 3. Until recently she was wonderful. She did everything I asked. She remembered what I wanted, and always tried to please me. Now she is a little monster. She goes out of her way to be bad. She embarrasses me before visitors. When I correct her she says mean, hateful things. My husband is as puzzled as I am. What have we done wrong?"

Probably you've done nothing wrong. Many 3-year-olds are little monsters. Your girl sounds quite normal. Up to two and a half or three most children are sweet conformers. They imitate their parents, and always try to please. Then suddenly they begin to experiment with bad behavior. They lash out, in all directions. They're awful. Ask other mothers about their three-year-olds. You'll get an earful.

What is happening? Your daughter is developing her conscience. She is learning what she can and cannot do. Ideals of honesty, decency, fair play are being formed. A few unlucky children skip this period of rebellion. They may later become adult monsters, totally lacking in conscience.

Be sure to show your love for your girl. She still needs it. Try to set up simple rules to guide her. Make certain she understands them. Be reasonably consistent in enforcing the rules. Save corporal punishment for her few most dangerous offenses. Use lesser punishments as needed. Give sensible rewards for good behavior. Have fun with her whenever you can.

Show this column to your husband. It may help him understand what is happening. Your girl needs his guidance too. Good luck!

READERS' FORUM

(Q)—"My son is 4. He loans his beloved possessions to other children. Frequently they come back broken. Would it be all right to explain to him there are limits to generosity?"—B.S.

(A) Yes, it would. Generosity often is overdone. Explain the limits. Answer his questions. Help him understand.

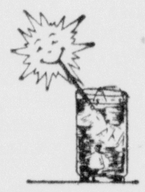
FUN WITH FOOD AND HELPFUL HINTS

Tender, juicy California turkey, roasted to tempting brown and served from a garden cart in the patio, is an elegant touch for your July 4 menu—thrifty, too; turkeys are "best buys" in midsummer. Cranberry Sauce? Yes indeed—chill OCEAN SPRAY Cranbery Sauce, Jellied, and cut into cubes. Combine with pineapple chunks, a royal garnish for a beautiful bird!

Cool drinks in a tall glass—what a feeling of relaxation. You can buy MARTINELLI'S Apple Juice in any size container you desire—but if you have plenty of it in the refrigerator, the Fourth will be fun as well as glorious! Note how clear and golden MARTINELLI'S Apple Juice is—that's because it is pure juice, nothing added, from sound, ripe California apples.



Serve "Freezecrackers" at your Independence Day dinner. Sprinkle grated coconut on CUT-RITE Wax Paper and tint bright red. Cut ice cream into small cylinders and roll in coconut until coated. Fold CUT-RITE around each cylinder, tuck ends under, and freeze. At dessert, unwrap the Freezecrackers, insert tiny wax candles at one end of each red "cracker," light, serve!

While enraptured guests watch the barbecue artist at work, serve an appetizer tray. Be sure to include something light yet satisfying, such as this: Mix 1 can STAR-KIST Tuna with 3 ounces cream cheese, 1 tablespoon mayonnaise, 1 tablespoon pickle relish, 1 tablespoon lemon juice. Chill, stuff into cored cucumbers; chill again, slice and serve on bite-size crackers.

★ Looking for a unique and lovely gift? A beautiful pink and white hostess apron costs only $1.25 with a label from any Bonnie Hubbard product. Send to Bonnie Hubbard Hostess Apron, Box 62, Los Angeles 51.

"A bit—of spice—is very nice!" runs the old song—and how true. Next time you cook a pot roast, add a bit of SCHILLING'S Mustard, SCHILLING'S Onion Salt and SCHILLING'S Poultry Seasoning to the flour in which you dredge it. Brush it with garlic puree and brown sugar first, then flour it and brown well. Add wine vinegar, cover and simmer until tender.

The perfect vegetable for a holiday meal, patio or indoors, surely is green beans. . . . Cook C and W Frozen Cut Green Beans until tender and serve with almond butter or thin cream sauce, and you have a green vegetable that goes with any kind of meat. Or try C and W Frozen Green Beans, chilled and marinated in French dressing; you will be delighted with the texture and flavor.

Kitchen, bathroom, shower—how they collect fingerprints in hot weather! Add a few drops of SANI-CLOR to the water with which you wash tile and porcelain walls and fixtures and your work is half-done; this economical liquid bleach is excellent for cleaning as well as laundry purposes. Used daily in the bathroom, SANI-CLOR deodorizes and freshens while it cleanses.

A holiday always brings guests, and guests mean KLEENEX Tissues will be in demand. Place a box of these soft, strong tissues, in a shade to match the decor, in the powder room for lipstick-blotting, make-up removal and other chores. Keep one in the patio, too, handy for children and grownups. January or July, KLEENEX Tissues are a real necessity for family and guests.

That's all for now! See you next week!

Found: Easy Way To Circle Globe Without Passport

LONDON (UPI)—A fashion expedition here can take you around the world without a passport.

"Patterns of living are not necessarily isolated by national boundaries," she said, during a recent visit. "The starting point of my design thinking is inspired by today's activities, and the evolved clothes are found to be useful in many parts of the world."

GIVE YOUR dog a good grooming every day, especially during his shedding periods. You'll find that your pet loves this extra bit of attention. His coat will stay clean and shiny without frequent baths, and you'll have fewer dog hairs to clean off carpets and furniture.

Avoid Letting Family Pets Give Place A Hang-Dog Look

As any mother knows, all it takes is a 10-year-old tornado with a frolicking kitten or pup at his heels to give her home a lived-in look. The right degree of lived-inness is an asset we are told by child psychologists. Without it, both boy and dog take to hanging around street corners, and you know what that leads to!

To help you enjoy the liveliness and love family pets can add to a home and still avoid letting them give the place a hang-dog look, the Pet Food Institute offers these tidy suggestions:

Have a pet pantry. Outfit the back of a kitchen closet door for storing all your pet's belongings. Hang a shelf or two to hold his boxes and cans of pet food. To keep leashes, collars and coats handy, attach them to an ordinary clothes hook. Tack up a small wicker basket to collect balls, rubber bones and catnip mice.

Teach your pet his table manners. Always feed him at the same time and in the same place . . . a spot away from family traffic so that he can eat without interruption. Most people feed their dogs in the evening before dinner. This helps keep the dog from begging at the table. A cat usually requires two feedings a day. Both dogs and cats thrive on commercially prepared pet foods. These give a well-balanced diet and require no special preparation.

Good grooming makes Rover nice to be near. The few minutes it takes each day to brush or comb your pet are well spent. Not only does it keep his coat in tiptop shape, but also helps to eliminate doggy odor and to keep your furniture and carpets free of stray hair.

Sow a few wild oats for your cat. Housecats will sometimes nibble on potted plants. To save your philodendron, plant a pot of grass or wild oats for kitty's very own.

Make paw wipers from old terry towels. Cut a strip eight inches wide from a wornout bath towel. Turn up each end and stitch to form a pocket. When Rover comes in from his walk, you can quickly slip your hands into the pockets and do a quick, efficient job of wiping muddy paws clean.

Playpens are perfect for puppies. A small, untrained puppy can be happily confined in a cast-off playpen. Many pet owners say this helps with housebreaking, too. A dog will instinctively keep his bed clean, so confinement in a small, but comfortable area, helps him with control.

GRILL, SPIT or SKEWER

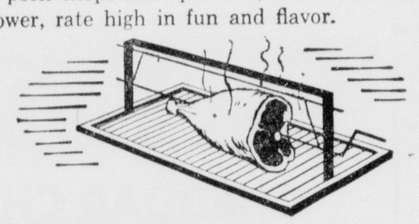
You GRILL a Steak

Have steaks (at least 1-inch thick) warmed to room temperature. Place 3 inches from glowing coals and let sizzle, turning only once, for 5-6 minutes per side. Remember grilling is not just for steaks! Try ground beef, shaped into thick patties; and lamb chops, too. Ham steaks, pork chops and spareribs, cooked a little longer and slower, rate high in fun and flavor.



You SPIT a Roast

A leg o' lamb, rolled beef rib or standing rib roast, ham and Allan's Bologna Roll all cook to savory delight on your slow-turning spit. Cooking time for each roast is the same as oven time. Baste generously with favorite barbecue sauce during just the last 30 minutes of cooking for that light tang that spices the robust meat flavor.

You SKEWER a Shish Kebab

Make it from choice chunks of lamb or beef. Marinate meat several hours in French dressing with a dash of Oregano. Thread on skewers alternately with small white onions, quarters of tomatoes and wedges of green peppers. Try liver and bacon this way, too!

But . . . WIENER ROASTS are MOST fun!

Allan's franks taste great, whether they are toasted to a crusty brown and slipped into buns or stuffed with cheese, wrapped in bacon and grilled. Another time, cut franks in chunks and cook shish kebab style with bacon and pineapple.

You can be sure of fine flavor—genuine good eating—with ALLAN'S beef, pork, lamb or sausage meats

Cheryl Crane Taken East For Treatment

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Actress Lana Turner brought her daughter, Cheryl Crane, 17, to the Institute of Living here today to undergo psychiatric treatment.

Dr. Gordon Edgren, assistant medical director of the institute, said Cheryl agreed to come here on her own volition to undergo treatment.

Miss Turner arrived with her daughter and fifth husband, rancher Fred May. Dr. Edgren said Cheryl would be interviewed by staff personnel at the hospital before undergoing any treatment.

Cheryl, the daughter of Miss Turner and her second husband, Stephen Crane, has been a ward of the State of California for three years. The teen-ager fatally stabbed her mother's lover, Johnny Stompanato, when he threatened Miss Turner. A coroner's jury ruled it was justifiable homicide.

Dallas Integration Reluctantly Ordered

DALLES (UPI) — U. S. Dist. Judge T. Whitfield Davidson yesterday reluctantly ordered Dallas schools to go ahead with a stair-step plan of integration in September and warned all white citizens to accept the ruling peacefully.

Integration would start on a selective basis in the first grade and would take 12 years to spread through all grades.

The 84-year-old jurist criticized the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals at New Orleans, which last Jan. 20 ordered the desegregation plan put into effect. Davidson said the appeals court "bypasses Article 10 of the Bill of Rights as though it ad never been written."

Davidson called the desegregation order a "forced" one, made without the consent of Dallas citizens. But he urged white residents to "stand calmly by constituted authority" and to "support and cooperate with the board of education in its efforts to carry out this order."

The judge also has some advice for Negro citizens. He told them to heed the stataement of Gen. U. S. Grant at Appomattox "to never crow over the reverses of an honorable adversary."

Mail Surprises

PATCHOGUE, N. Y. (AP) — When Humphrey Avery, owner of a plant nursery, opened his mail he got two surprises. First, four $10 bills fell out of an envelope with a note reading "For stolen merchandise." Second, it was the first news that there had been a theft. He doesn't know yet what was stolen.

Marinites Win Prizes At Solano Fair

Phil F. Reedstrom of Novato has won three second and a third-place prize in garden and flower exhibit competition at Solano County Fair.

The fair is being held through July 1 just north of Vallejo off Highway 40.

Reedstrom was second with flowers in the Begonia and Fuchsia exhibits. He also placed second with a space age garden exhibit. He was third in shade plant gardens.

Man In Dog Mauling Case Ordered Arrested

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Robert Tait, whose boxer dogs mauled an 11-year-old boy May 27, was ordered arrested for failing to register as a sex deviate.

Tait, a former Marin County resident, was arrested in Mill Valley in 1959 for a similar offense.

According to records in the Marin Sheriff's office, the 35-year-old appraiser was convicted of sex perversion in Venice (Los Angeles County) in January of 1958. He moved to Miller Avenue in Mill Valley in 1959 and was arrested for failing to register in June of that year. He drew 30 days in jail suspended and one year probation.

San Francisco Municipal Judge Albert Axelrod yesterday ordered Tait arrested when he appeared in court on the dog charge.

"Your whole attitude is very sadistic," Axelrod told Tait.

"You'll have to get rid of those dogs. I could order them destroyed, but this, in my opinion, would only punish the dogs."

The report said Tait had been arrested four times on morals charges since 1948, convicted three times of lewd conduct, was required in 1956 to register as a sex deviate but had not done so since moving to San Francisco from San Rafael two years ago.

The report said that in attacks by the dogs on people Tait would intervene only when "the victim was undergoing such great fear and stress that their very survival was in the balance."

Parking Fees For Motor Scooters

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI) — The parking problem has arrived at the University of Michigan for owners of motorcycles and motor scooters.

After July 10 owners of two-wheeled motor vehicles will be required by the university to buy $10 a year parking permits. The regulation also will include motorized bicycles.

Drunk Driving Charge Second In 5 Months

As result of smashing into a parked car and ramming it through a fence and then tangling with police in Mill Valley, Mrs. Dorothy Elizabeth Mills, 45, has been convicted of drunken driving for the second time in five months and drawn a $263 fine and five days in jail.

Municipal Judge Harold J. Haley Monday afternoon specified that if the fine is not paid by Friday she must spend 10 more days in jail. Friday is when her five days, with credit for time served, will have ended.

Mrs. Mills, of 201 Eldridge Avenue, Mill Valley, was arrested Sunday after police said she tore out eight feet of grapestake fence when her car struck a parked car at 157 Eldridge Avenue.

Patrolman William A. Walsh reported he found Mrs. Mills still behind the wheel, unable to get out of her car after the accident had bent it out of shape. He pried open a door and released her.

He said she and her car gave off a strong aroma of alcohol. His report continues that at the Mill Valley police station she angrily refused to take a sobriety test and that she created a one-woman riot in the patrol wagon taking her to Marin County jail in San Rafael.

Her record shows that she previously was convicted in Marin County Municipal Court on a drunken driving charge last February 2.

Fathers On Alert As Daughters Born

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—When they're older, the daughters of Richard Curtis and Lambert West will be able to say that daddy really was alert the morning they were born.

Lt. Curtis is co-pilot of a Strategic Air Command aerial refueling plane and Airman West is fuel transfer operator on the same aircraft. Both were on "immediate takeoff" alert duty at Lockbourne Air Force Base when word was relayed of the birth — about six hours apart.

On top of Mt. Washington, N.H., the mercury never has climbed above 45 degrees in the winter or 71 in the summer. The coldest temperature ever recorded there was 46.5 degrees below zero.

3 School Districts Receive U.S. Funds

Three Marin County educational districts have just received $53,000 in treasury checks under provisions of a 10-year-old program granting aid to help local schools pay additional operating costs because of nearby federal activities.

Reed Union School District got $5,367 and expects to have a total $7,156 while the Marin Junior College District received $6,564 of an expected $8,752.

Things Weren't Quite Same At The Bank This Monday

We walked into the First National Bank in San Rafael Monday to deposit our pay check, and things were different.

You weren't really conscious of it at first. The cashiers behind the counters were the same, things seemed to be going on as usual, but not quite.

The first problem we encountered was when we couldn't find the deposit slips. The first desk at which we stopped had great emptiness in the slot where the slips usually are available. We moved on to the next desk and that too had an empty slot.

Then a young woman came up and asked if she could help us. We pointed out the lax attitude of the bank in not having deposit slips readily available. She politely showed us that there were a new type of deposit slip on each of the desks.

To begin with they were obviously too small, only half the size of the old ones. They had to be filled out on both sides, front and back.

And they had the wrong name on them. Crocker-Anglo National Bank, they said.

Then we remembered. The First National Bank in San Rafael is no more. Marin's last and only independent bank is gone.

Then, too, we realized what had been wrong when we first entered the bank. Will Murray was not sitting at his accustomed desk just inside the door, available to everyone and with a kind word or a wave as you went by.

It wasn't a strange face there, Arthur Latno smiled and waved. But it wasn't Will Murray.

We'll miss Will at his desk. We'll miss the little personal touches he gave the bank, birthday, Christmas and anniversary cards, and the like.

We welcomed Crocker-Anglo Bank when it first came to Marin several years ago. Now we congratulate it on its expansion through acquisition of the First National and the Bank of San Rafael.

But we're sure Crocker-Anglo will understand if we shed a tear for our departed local industry. We'll miss it.

Pinkish White Candles

Of all Marin's native trees probably the showiest is the California Buckeye. Large masses of pinkish-white flowers on long, erect spikes have caused this tree to be compared to a great, dark-green candelabra.

The Buckeye trees have been blooming for about a month and will continue for another month. Although the flowers are very attractive, their nectar is poisonous and reportedly kills bees which imbibe too deeply.

Late in the summer the tree drops its leaves, probably to conserve moisture. Later still the green buckeye pods split open to drop the large, brown, leathery "buckeyes," one to each pod.

The buckeyes are poisonous and inedible, but Marin's Miwok Indians had a method of extracting the poison and making flour from them.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

RESENTFUL HATRED

Hatred of healthy people led to the arrest of a 25-year-old man who was charged on 13 counts of attempted murder.

He suffered from severe asthma attacks, and vented his feelings by hurling rocks at women and children.

"I always felt better after throwing the stones," he said.

A certain sense of release immediately follows acts of hatred or resentment. But it is terribly fleeting at best. An even more consuming bitterness speedily replaces the temporary gratification to be found in revenge.

One who is jealous of another person's advantage gradually destroys himself in the same proportion that he strives to hurt the other. So, any individual blossoms and grows in mind, heart and soul whenever he rejoices in the success of others and is thankful that they are even more blessed by God than he is himself.

(Zacharias 8:17)

Teach me, O Jesus, to rejoice in the just advantages of others rather than be jealous of them.

Hollywood's Decline Lamented By Famous Producer Director

NEW YORK (AP) — Hollywood is dwindling as the world's film capital, says Anatole Litvak, because it has become a rut lit by fading stars and no bright new ideas.

"Slowly, slowly, the American film industry is losing ground abroad, losing prestige, losing audiences, too," he said.

This decline, the famous producer-director insisted, is not basically the fault of the competition of television or any other economic reason.

"It's because we don't progress—we stick too much to the same formulas we did years ago. We don't dare come up with anything new—either in terms of subjects or methods of approach.

"We stick to the old ways. We depend too much on stars, or spectac[illegible]micks such as the wid[illegible]which provoke the [illegible]of people, but only temporarily."

It is the Italians and the French, Litvak said, who now challenge world interest with pictures daring in theme — and often made without stars —which are proving both artistic and box office successes.

"They are willing to take a chance," he remarked. "Sometimes they don't click, but often they do. We must be willing to take a chance too.

"Tola," as he is known to his buddies, is renowned for such films as "Be Mine Tonight," "Mayerling," and "This Above All."

He isn't against stars — so long as they can act. His latest film, "Goodbye Again," is built around three stars—Ingrid Bergman, Yves Montand and Anthony Perkins.

BUT LIVAK feels strongly that in creating the star system Hollywood like Frankenstein, fashioned a monster that might lead to its own doom.

"In making a motion picture the story is really the most important thing," he insisted. "It may not help my popularity with some people to say this, but it is true.

"BUT HERE you can't get the money to make a film unless you have some kind of protection — such as stars. First you sign a star or, better yet, two stars.

Novato Rodeo To Be Expanded

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

On behalf of the Novato Horseman's Association, I wish to thank you and your staff for the outstanding support given the Novato Horsemen's-Novato Veterans of Foreign Wars Rodeo by the San Rafael Independent-Journal. We realize that much of our success was directly due to the I-J's fine stories and pictures.

The excellent attendance and enthusiasm of the spectators has already inspired the Novato Horsemen's Association to greatly expand this event in the coming years. We hope to make it equal in quality and importance to other major rodeos throughout the West.

I am confident that given the same support and encouragement by the Independent-Journal we can produce a rodeo of which the entire county will be proud.

Schedule Trucks Off Commute Time

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

After five years of commuting from Marin County, I have made an observation which has never appeared in print, if so, I haven't read it.

The only noticeable traffic congestion which occurs daily is on Waldo grade during the morning commute hours. The reason for this is that large semi-trailers loaded with construction material, and on occasion, with wine, growl up the grade. The presence of one semi-truck on the grade immediately starts a traffic congestion problem.

Perhaps a request to the trucking companies and the wine companies to reschedule their trucks so that they would arrive on the grade any time after 8:30 a.m. would alleviate one of the traffic hazards we commuters endure five mornings a week.

Rescheduling of trucks in the interest of public safety would result in good public relations, should it be made known that the companies are complying.

Marin Follows Communist Plan

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I am much concerned with the trend of both our Marin County and city duly elected governing bodies to place their business in the hands of "heaven knows who or how selected" appointed or self-appointed groups, committees or planning commissions.

It is bad enough that too much of their business is now being done by appointed officials, i.e. managers, in contraposition to hired employees.

Worse are the efforts of minority groups in this county to exert pressure upon same properly elected officials through improper use of petitions and special elections and the engineering of consent upon an electorate, who are often, due to a milk-toast and controlled press, ill informed as to the real issues involved, which issues usually further throw our economy into the hands of the supposedly never empty, but already very empty, federal pot, the debts of which we are negligently passing on to our great-grandchildren.

The threat of force is already being used, because we are always referred to other communities, who in the false name of progress have capitulated, and we are always told (threatened), that if we do not accept federal (or in some cases state) funds, they will be given to other communities anyway. I would like to see our local and state taxes raised, so that we may again take care of our local needs (roads, utilities, schools, and people) properly, but not before the federal income tax has been abolished and this power placed in state hands, where it can be locally and reasonably controlled.

Above group tactics, although legal, are not consistent with our true form of government, which is based upon guaranteeing a republican, i.e. representative by election form, but are entirely consistent with what I call mob-rule-democracy, a form which always will and historically always has turned into dictatorship.

That above trend is entirely consistent with the desires and intents of communists is clearly spelled out on page 30 of "The Communist Manifesto" quote, "We have seen above, that the first step in the revolution by the working class, is to raise the proletariat to the position of ruling class, to establish democracy."

In conclusion I wish to quote from the June, 1961 issue of "The Freeman," publication of "The Foundations for Economic Education, Inc." quote, "Could Hamlet have been written by a committee, or the 'Mona Lisa' painted by a club? Could the New Testament have been composed as a conference report? Creative ideas do not spring from groups. They spring from individuals. The divine spark leaps from the fingers of God to the fingers of man. A Whitney Griswold, president of Yale University."

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

Hear ye, hear ye, those who chafe under the restrictions of the income tax, to this protest from a recognized authority: "The income tax, we have been told repeatedly, was a temporary measure, and would soon be reduced, if not relinquished altogether. These sanguine expectations have now been proved in vain, and indeed, the income tax is pressing on us more heavily, in peace time, than it did during the war. The very minister, in fact, who told us it would cease, now proposes its augmentation. What practical man now expects to see its end? Who is credulous enough to hope for a year in which he will be granted a reduction?

The paper in which these words appeared was the London Economist. The minister referred to was William Gladstone. The date was February 23, 1861!

Shrewd old Kenyatta, Mau Mau leader recently freed from prison by the British, is all for keeping ALL whites out of Africa, be they Russian, American, or what not. "We should not be party to the cold war," asserts Kenyatta. "I recall an old proverb: when two elephants fight, it is the grass that suffers."

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By RANDALL GOULD

Can We Look To Supervisors For More Maturity Or Monkeyshines?

Marin affords few sights more picturesque and entertaining than that of our worthy supervisors swinging from branch to branch, pulling one anothers' tails and heckling the songbirds.

At other times the question obtrudes—what, really, has such divertissement got to do with running the sizeable corporation which is our county government?

One wonders.

WE ARE TOLD quite often that the government of Marin is more like a big company than a purely political entity, but in spite of all protestations it is not so treated.

Much concern for pennies is shown, but the dollars often flow fast.

True, the man who is in effect the president of their company is in Marin government called an "administrator" to prevent confusion with the political and elected sort of president. What's in a name? The fact is clear enough.

PEOPLE EASILY become confused about words. Sometimes one feels that the job of supervisor is in itself confusing beyond the ordinary. It is not always evident that the supervisors understand fully about their own jobs, much less those of others as they pick and fumble at a complex governmental machine mainly well run.

In their own meetings, the supervisors often to a painful degree fail to accord due respect to one another. Some show little respect for personal qualities and experience, among themselves or department heads.

The current excitement about the county administrator is especially important not only because the administrator holds a key job, but because if he were properly used by the supervisors—as directors use their company president—he could lead to far more orderly decisions by the board.

IT SHOULD BE kept in mind that supervisors, and directors, are chosen to be policy-makers. They aren't supposed to administer. That they sometimes try to do so is a mistake.

But the top executive, call him administrator or president or whatever, should be entrusted with a myriad of chores to take work off the backs of the policy-makers and furnish solid facts on which to base their decisions.

In trying to get rid of the job of administrator, the supervisor majority has at any rate kept the matter on a relatively high plane and avoided striking at Alan Bruce personally up to this time.

ACUTELY AWARE of what his functions should be, Bruce recently said with frankness that he has not done what he ought to for he has not been allowed. He might have added, but didn't, that even the courtesy granted has been minimal; true also of a number of department heads.

The public has at any rate been shocked by various events into some thinking for itself, largely without official leadership.

It now remains to be seen whether we are to have more monkey-shines, or more maturity. Time runs out fast.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Commies At Work Again With Big Lie So Cold War Due Hotter

WASHINGTON — There is tell-tale evidence that the West must steel itself for a new Communist thrust in the cold war.

One of the most unscrupulous devices employed by Moscow against the free world is manufacturing spurious diplomatic documents, usually attributed to the United States, and the planting of false and scurrilous news stories.

Twice in recent years — once on the eve of the engineered violence of Lebanon and again shortly before the Communist attack on Quemoy and Matsu—the Kremlin began with the tactic of incitement by forgery.

As readers of this column may recall from previous reports, 20 such forgeries were used by Moscow during 1957 and 1958. In each instance the Communist propagandists "discovered," usually through the alleged carelessness of an American diplomat abroad, some non-existent instructions from Washington to our Embassies on how to start a war or take control of some unwary country.

FIFTEEN MORE fakes have been uncovered by U. S. intelligence sources in recent months. The latest is in a pro-Communist newspaper designed to picture the U. S. as working for colonial rule in Algeria, scheming to overthrow President de Gaulle and in association with Spain and Portugal to create an "Iberian dictatorship" base for some new "international conspiracy."

You will remember that after the failure of the "generals' revolt" in Algeria in April, rumors conveniently cropped up that the U. S. had engineered the attempted coup and had supported its leader, General Challe. In the confusion French officials did not instantly repudiate the rumors.

WHERE DID these rumors come from? Where did they first appear? By whom were they circulated?

The starting point for spreading this Soviet lie was "Il Paese," a Rome newspaper whose director, Mario Malloni, is a member of the World Peace Council, a Communist-front organization.

The Soviets obviously knew it was coming because "Pravda" picked it up within 12 hours and elaborated at lenth, reporting, as if it were true, that "U. S. reactionary forces are helping the French colonialists" and that "the traces from Spain and Portugal lead across the ocean to the Pentagon and the Central Intelligence Agency."

And then the myth began to be fully orchestrated. "Tass" relayed the "Pravda" piece in English to Europe; Moscow radio carried it in Arabic to the Middle East. The "London Daily Worker" and the Parisian Communist newspaper, "L'Humanite," joined the chorus and two days later Radio Moscow was broadcasting it in English and Spanish to North and South America, claiming that General Challe admitted U. S. support. Actually he denied it.

The forgery preceding the Communist thrusts at Lebanon and Iraq was a letter by Herbert Hoover Jr., which he never wrote, outlining U. S. industry plans, which never existed, to steal the oil fields of the Middle East. The forgery preceding the attack on Quemoy and Matsu was a fake cable directing U. S. Ambassador Rankin to mount a plot to kill Chiang Kai-shek.

Today is Wednesday, June 28, the 179th day of the year with 186 more to follow in 1961.

The morning stars are Venus, Jupiter and Saturn.

The evening star is Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1864, Congress repealed the Fugitive Slave Law of 1850.

In 1945, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced the reconquest of Luzon in the Philippines.

A thought for today: German philosopher Immanuel Kant said: "In the judgments of pure reason, opinion has no place."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

Grade Schools Will Get French Courses

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A program to provide 10 years of French language instruction in California public schools was announced here yesterday.

The State Department of Education said that under the program, French would be taught from the third through the 12th grades, compared to today's average three years in high school.

The full program calls for five 15-minute periods of French weekly from third through sixth grade, three to five full periods weekly for the next two grades, followed by five weekly classes in the last four years.

Social Science Booth At Art, Garden Show

Thirty-five volunteers will staff the Henry George School of Social Science booth at the Marin Art and Garden Show June 30 to July 4, in Ross, according to Mrs. Edward A. McCrum of Ross, volunteer staff chairman for the school's booth this year.

The booth will feature photographs by Leigh J. Abell and other exhibits by Dr. Duval B. Jaros, both of San Rafael.

Enrollments will be accepted at the booth for the school's new tuition-free discussion series in fundamental economics, opening at the College of Marin Tuesday evening, July 18, under the leadership of John Burger of San Rafael and Dr. Edward Tamler of San Francisco.

Huge Los Angeles Budget Approved

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The board of supervisors yesterday officially adopted a record 1961-62 county budget of $527,820,222 which represented a 43.3-million-dollar increase over the current period.

However, there will be no increase in the county tax rate.

The vote by the board was 3-1, with Supervisor Warren M. Dorn dissenting on grounds the budget did not contain funds for all additional narcotics officers asked by Sheriff Peter Pitchess.

Sanibel Island, off the west coast of Florida in the Gulf of Mexico, is said to have been named for Queen Isabella of Spain.

SHEINWOLD ON BRIDGE

Think Ahead When You're Finessing

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Most players have an instinct that guides them swiftly and surely to the wrong way of finessing.

2 ◇	Pass	3 ◇	Pass
3 ♡	Pass	4 ♡	All Pass

Opening lead — ♠ K

West takes two spades and then switches to a club. South can now afford to lose only one trump trick.

Most bridge players would "instinctively" lead a low trump from dummy, finessing the queen from the South hand. As it happens, this loses to the king. Declarer later tries to draw the rest of the trumps with dummy's jack and his own ace, but East gets the setting trick with the ten of hearts.

Unlucky? Not at all. Switch the trumps, and you'll still get the same result. If East has the doubleton king of trumps, your first finesse will work. On the next trick the jack, king and ace of trumps will fall together. The ten and eight of trumps will then defeat the contract.

In short, finessing the queen is a sure way to lose two trump tricks when the trumps break 4-2, regardless of which opponent has the king. If the trumps break 3-3 you can play the trumps upside down or sideways and still make the contract.

CORRECT PLAY

The correct play is to get to your hand with a diamond and begin the trumps by leading low from your own hand toward dummy's jack.

This does not save you if either opponent has four trumps headed by the king, nor if West has four to the ten. In those situations you are doomed, just as you are safe against any 3-3 break.

The proper play helps you if West has the doubleton king. West cannot gain by playing a low trump, so he must put up his king. Dummy's jack and your own ace-queen will later draw the rest of the trumps.

DAILY QUESTION

What do you say?

Answer: Bid one spade. You have 11 points in high cards, and two points for distribution. Always open a 13-point hand when you have a strong major suit.

Scout's Sierra Camp Expansion Gets Underway

Construction is underway for expansion of a Sierra camp owned by the Marin Council of the Boy Scouts of America, scout executive Storrs H. Smith announced yesterday.

The project includes construction of a new commissary building at Marin-Sierra Camp, Emigrant Gap, Placer County. The building is being built by contractor Douglas Christensen of San Rafael. Also participating in the project is William Grace of Ross. Architect is Gordon Phillips of San Rafael. The camp consists of 240 acres of wilderness.

Development of Camp Tamaarancho—800 acres near Fairfax — will include constructing water systems and "program areas," said Smith. He said construction is scheduled to begin in the fall at the Marin camp.

Exclusive use of this prefix name has been granted by The Holstein-Friesian Assn. of America. It will become a permanent part of official breed records at the organization's national headquarters in Brattleboro, Vermont.

NO END OF CAREER

Christ Role Doesn't Worry This Actor

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

STOCKHOLM—"I hope this role doesn't mean the end of my acting career. Perhaps I should insist on another film afterward—as a gunfighter."

This was the smiling comment of Max Von Sydow about his assignment to play Jesus in George Stevens' "The Greatest Story Ever Told." The legend of H. B. Warner had reached him here in Sweden, but he really didn't seem alarmed.

The sad-eyed, exquisitely calm Warner was Cecil B. DeMille's choice to play Jesus in the silent "King of Kings." It is firmly a part of Hollywood lore that Warner's career was ruined by the role, because producers and audiences couldn't see him in anything but saintly parts.

In reality, Warner's career decline was due to the wile of showman De Mille, who refused to allow the actor to work for years after "King of Kings." He was not a versatile performer, but later had a career as a character actor.

It is doubtful that Von Sydow would suffer a similar fate. In six Ingmar Bergman movies he has displayed amazing versatility.

"Apparently he had seen a couple of them," said Von Sydow. "He asked me to come to Hollywood, and I flew over for four and a half days in February."

"I was impressed by his approach to the story," said Von Sydow (pronounced sigh-dough, the von denoting his noble ancestry). "The script will stress the human relationships, especially in regard to Judas.

"I had seen two of Stevens' films, 'A Place in the Sun' and 'Giant.' While I was in Hollywood, I also saw 'Shane' and 'The Diary of Anne Frank.' And I talked on the telephone to Carl Sandberg, who is working on the script. That was a rare experience; I have long admired his poetry."

Impressed with each other, Stevens and Von Sydow agreed to a deal. Nothing has been signed as yet, but the actor expects to take his wife and two young sons to Hollywood this fall to begin his stretch—two months of preparation, at least seven of filming.

Group Asks Chandler Death Probe

HOLLYWOOD, (UPI) — The Screen Actors Guild will be asked to investigate circumstances of the death of movie star Jeff Chandler, television cowboy Clint Walker said today.

Walker, star of the TV series "Cheyenne," said about 70 persons have signed a petition asking the guild to appoint a special fact-finding committee to probe the death.

Chandler, 42, died in nearby Culver City Hospital June 15 after three operations and a month-long battle for life. Death was attributed to blood poisoning.

He was admitted to the hospital in May for an operation on a ruptured spinal disc.

Five days after this operation, he began to hemorrhage uncontrollably — and required hours of surgery and 55 pints of blood in a single day to save him.

He later hemorrhaged again and underwent a third operation.

Walker said his group was making no charges. But he said the petition asks in part for the guild to determine if there was "negligence, incompetence or error."

Walker said the idea for the petition began during a conversation between himself and two other actors.

"A lot of the Warners people signed," he said. "Efrem Zimbalist, Dorothy Provine, Troy Donahue and others—all the way down the line."

Walker said more signatures will be sought before the petition is submitted to the guild.

Concrete House For Model Contest

Those participating in the work include the McPhail Fuel Co. of San Rafael which will furnish ready-mixed concrete.

The house will participate in a Concrete Industries Horizon Homes Program in September, and the winner nationwide will be given a free trip to any place in the world.

Two Legislators To Clash On TV Show Tomorrow Night

Taking the Republican viewpoint of the session will be Assemblyman William T. Bagley of Marin.

Upholding the point of view of the majority Democratic Party will be Sen. Eugene McAteer of San Francisco.

They will be heard on KQED's "Profile: Bay Area" at 9:30 p.m. Caspar W. Weinberger, a former assemblyman, is the moderator.

The discussion is to cover all phases of the legislative session including the new budget and bills relating to education, taxes and an expanded welfare program.

The United States intends to build a dam on the Kootenai River, a major tributary of the Columbia, to eliminate critical flooding in Idaho and to provide irrigation and power.
